Nature Note: Roar of Traffic on Route 1 Fails to Frighten Birds and Their Watchers

Where the birds are--that's where the Trenton Naturalist Club takes many of its field trips, and there is a surprisingly large and varied number of species even in largely urban and industrial spots in Central New Jersey.

On a recent Sunday, for instance, the group met at a truck service parking lot off Route 1 in Lawrence Township for a walk billed as "Canal Walk and Sodfields for Migrating Warblers and Shorebirds." The leader was Ray Blicharz of Trenton, who conducts the annual Princeton Christmas Bird Count for the Audubon Society and the annual Big Day tally of bird species within the area of the club membership.

Mr. Blicharz has been birding for 18 years. Each spring, he also leads a walk for the club in the Institute Woods to see migrating spring warblers. With a flock of 25 binocular-carrying bird fanciers of varying degrees of experience chattering behind him, he has an uncanny ability to pick up bird twitterings in the surrounding greenery and identify them.

and the buzzy notes of a prairie warbler on my right," he will say, hand raised to still the group. "Watch for movement." The group halts abruptly and peers into the leafy maze, until someone catches the flitting of a bird hopping about in the trees.

"Where?" is the eager question. "At 2 o'clock in the large ash tree behind this little maple," comes the answer, using the birder's metaphor in which the trunk of the tree is represented as 12 o'clock on a large imaginary timepiece.

On this particular Sunday, the group set out along the Delaware and Raritan canal towpath from the point where it intersects with Route 1 and with I-95. With cars whizzing by, oblivious to their presence, 15 people of varying ages and occupations train their binoculars on the trees, not more than 25 feet from the four-lane highway, in which flutters a Blackburnian warbler, a chestnut-sided and a black-throated green warbler.

"You should have seen the bird activity in this spot last year," Mr. Blicharz comments. "Last year," or "yesterday," to birders is equivalent to "the one that got away" to fishermen. "Last year," he continues, "there was a cold front that came the night before the walk, bringing with it a particularly large number of the migrating warblers."

The group continues down the town path beneath the maze of concrete buttressed roadways formed by the intersecting highways and their ramps. Murmurs of approval greet a belted kingfisher and a little green heron that fly up. Heads swivel as an osprey is sighted flying directly overhead, probably using the straight line of the canal to guide him southward.

Yedlin Housing Ground-Breaking Is Scheduled; Major Portion to Be Named 'Redding Terrace'

Four years of debate, legal action and emotion-charged argument ended last week—or apparently ended—when the Housing Authority signed a $3,195,287 contract of sale with Benedict Yedlin and his partner for construction of 100 units of public housing at Mt. Lucas Road and Ewing Street.

Ground-breaking is expected in about two weeks, with completion by January, 1978. The architect is J. Robert Hillier.

The Housing Authority of the Borough of Princeton, agent for the Township in this project, announced that the 60 units set aside for the elderly will be named "Redding Terrace," honoring Joseph J. Redding, who has been an Authority commissioner since 1949 and chairman of the Authority since 1961.

No Other Name Planned. The 40 family units will not be given any particular name, according to Karin Slaby, executive director of the Authority. These units will be grouped around the street that will enter as a public road from Mt. Lucas, will then become an Authority road, and will end as a cul-de-sac. Township Committee will presumably name the road, Mrs. Slaby said.

The elderly units, although accessible from the same road, form more of an entity and are set apart from the other units around a circle of walkways, similar to Lloyd Terrace.

"Redding Terrace" will consist of one two-story building with 12 apartments, and a single-story building with 48. Units will be either one-bedroom, or efficiency units with a bedroom alcove.

Family apartments will all be duplexes. There will be 40 with two or three bedrooms and two with four bedrooms.

Mrs. Slaby said the Authority has a waiting list of 50 families and 70 elderly. However, applications may still be made to the Authority's office at 50 Clay Street. Township residents and there's no way to remedy this.

"Do the limits set on rent increases simply induce landlords to levy raises up to those increases, when they might not have otherwise? We have no way of knowing," the mayor pointed out.

He said he didn't think the ordinance had encouraged rental units, and may have caused landlords to take them off the market.

Mr. Huntoon asks why Princeton University isn't covered by the ordinance, and what about the exemption for luxury apartments, defined as over $500 a month?

He's also not sure that Mr. Wallack is right when he says the present ordinance is unfair to the small, "Mom and Pop" landlord, and he also has doubts that Mr. Wallack is right in asserting that the ordinance isn't needed because the market will provide a fair price.

The housing shortage itself has Mayor Cawley pessimistic.

"There is no way we're ever going to eliminate that," he said this week.

TO REVIEW PLANNING

At Council Session. Should Princeton's joint Planning Board be re-designed? That's the major question for this Wednesday's special Borough Council meeting, called to discuss the state's new land use law.

The chief suggestion, whose architect is Borough Council member Gus Escher, calls for a regional board to work on master planning, and local boards for application review.

Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley showed his press conference this week a tally going back to 1970 when the Regional Planning Board was formed. It shows planners received 105 applications and 212 reviews from the Borough, compared to 199 and 418 from the Township. The board also received 21 Borough and 16 Township ordinance referrals.

Mayor Cawley has proposed a tight schedule to meet the state's February 1 deadline for incorporating the land use law into local government. He will have first priority, but Borough residents are also eligible. Former Borough or Township residents forced to move for economic reasons, may apply. The project is not open to people who work in Princeton but have never lived here.

Rent Formula Set. Rents are based on income, and the rate is 25 percent of income. The maximum rent depends on family size. Mrs. Slaby said this week that the Authority wants to increase the income limit and is hoping for HUD approval. The Township will receive 10 percent of shelter rents in lieu of taxes, but no dollar figure is yet available.

The contract of sale represents HUD's final approval of working drawings for the project. Under the contract, the Authority pays Benedict Yedlin, Inc., and Leon N. Weiner and Associates, Inc.—a joint venture—$3,195,287. HUD lends the money to the Authority which pays it back from rents. What it can't pay back, HUD subsidizes.

wants the Planning Board to resolve any lack of synchronization between Master Plan and zoning ordinance, or get Council to agree it will live with inconsistencies, by the end of October. Re-adoption of the Master Plan, as required by law, should be done at the board's November 3 meeting, the mayor says.

He wants Council to introduce land-use ordinances in November for December public hearings, warning that a newcomer to Council will take the two-year seat right after election, and at least one more newcomer will appear January 1. Council could have a total of four new members.

If this Council doesn't wrap up land use requirements, the law requires that the January 1 Council must start all over again.

Bird Watchers

A flock of gulls flaps by. "Two ring billed and mostly herring," someone reports knowledgeably. Two black ducks circle lazily in the muddy green waters of the canal, but the group's attention is riveted on the sight of the yellow breast of a female tanager lit by the early morning sun on the top of a distant tree. Someone sights a sharp-shinned hawk being chased by a smaller, unidentified bird.

Redstarts in Profusion. Farther along the towpath there are numerous redstarts. "It's only another redstart," becomes the disheartened appraisal when the bird in the binoculars fails to materialize as a better "find." There are red-eyed and white-eyed vireos and an immature prairie, a magnolia and a parula warbler, the latter posing obligingly on a branch within a few feet of the group.

It isn't only birds that Mr. Blicharz notices, good naturalist that he is. Pointing to a tall, weedy-looking flower with an unusually square stem, he tells the group that it is a giant yellow hyssop and a rarity in these parts. On the way back, there is considerable excitement over a Philadelphia vireo, which Mr. Blicharz characterizes as the best find of the day. It is only seen in fall migration.

There is a break for lunch - birders get hungry early - and everyone has a bird story to tell. Peggy Boyer, an active member from Cold Soil Road, is agog over the Hudsonian godwits she and Margaretta Cowenhoven saw among the detritus of industrialized society in the Hockensack Meadows on a New Jersey Audubon trip.

Loa Beck, a Pennington resident and current president of the club, talks of birding in the Trenton Marsh not far from Broad Street, which Mr. Blicharz thinks is even better for warblers than the Institute Woods. Recent arrivals of ducks to the pond at Squihh are recounted.

Inland Sandpipers. Mr. Blicharz then leads a caravan of cars for the second part of the trip, shorebirds on the sodfields. Yesterday, he says, there were buff breasted

Naturalist Club Draws from Wide Area

Founded in the late 1930's by a group of Trenton bird watchers, the Trenton Naturalist Club now has some 260 members, with 65 from Princeton, 65 from Trenton and the rest scattered in a wide area from Pennsylvania to Kendall Park.

Charles Rogers of 20 Haslet Avenue, chief ornithologist at Princeton University and originator in 1920 of the Princeton Christmas Bird Count, has been an active member of the club from the earliest days, giving bird talks and leading walks. In 1961, there was a move to change the name of the club to reflect the wider membership, and the Charles Rogers Club was one of the suggestions. Mr. Rogers demurred, saying others had worked equally hard, and the name remained unchanged.

The club sponsors live Audubon Wildlife films each year in the Kirby Arts Center of Lawrenceville School at which the producer is present to narrate his film. The next field trip will be Hiking and Hawks at Raccoon Ridge near Blairstown on October 16. Other trips include a Shark River trip in November, Warblers in the Institute Woods in May and Nesting Birds in the Assumpink Wildlife Area in June.

Membership is a nominal $6 for a single adult, $12 for a couple, and the club donates leftover funds each year to area parks and wildlife refuges. Margaretta Cowenhoven of Manning Lane, Lawrenceville, is membership chairman.

sandpipers on the sod farms along Mill Road in Dutch Neck.

A new member, who summers and birdwatches on a New England island without even aspiring to see this member of the confusing enough sandpiper family, expresses astonishment that they might be found in mid-New Jersey. "The sod farms look like the arctic tundra as they fly over in migration," theorizes the resourceful Mr. Blicharz.

The buff breasted sandpipers are not there on this particular day, as once again the group stands at the edge of a major artery with its back to fast-flying traffic and takes in the abundant killdeer hunting and pecking in the green grass. They go on to view golden plovers at a farm in Hightstown; 25-30 blue winged teal, one or two common egrets, semi-palmated and western sandpipers, and best of all, two immature little blue heron in the 200-acre lake recently formed in Mercer Park.

In all, the group tallies 65 species for the day. "Not bad," comments Mr. Blicharz.

11 TOWNHOUSES PLANNED

proval by the Planning Board for construction of 11 townhouses on Willow Street, where the old University Cleaners building now stands, seemed to hinge on the answer to "Who owns Branch Alley?" a non-street, paved with pot-holes, that connects the end of Willow to Park Place.

Design Interface Corporation detailed to the Planning Board Tuesday night its revised plans for the houses. Originally 14 in number, they have been reduced to 11. The first proposal required zoning variances which were granted by the Borough Zoning Board. However, the Superior Court in June, acting on a suit brought by Timothy J. Sheehan, reversed the Zoning Board, ruling that the evidence submitted to the board by Design Interface was insufficient.

The 11-unit plan, declared Borough engineer George Olexa, meets all zoning requirements and doesn't have to go before the Zoning Board. It must, however, obtain both subdivision and site plan approval from the Planning Board.

Mr. Sheehan, in the audience at Tuesday's public hearing, asked whether the Borough has a requirement that lots front on a public street. Willow is a private street, about to be purchased by Design Interface.

Mr. Olexa said he didn't

A STRANGE BREED: This cartoon of bird watchers accompanied a press release on the publication of Charles Leck's book, "Birds of New Jersey," recently reissued by Rutgers University Press in paperback. Dr. Leck and his wife Mary lead a Trenton Naturalist Club trip in the spring on early migrants and wildflowers, which will be in Herrontown woods next April.

know, but he pointed to such private streets as Queenston, Allison Road and all University-owned streets.

Branch is the anxious concern of Richard Sinding, who lives at 11 Madison and fears increased use of the narrow alley by people living in the townhouses and their guests. There is no formal turnaround planned for the end of Willow.

Both Mr. Olexa and Robert Dix, Design Interface's attorney, agreed that Branch is "owned" by adjacent property-owners whose deeds entitle them to use it. The board's attorney, William Miller, asked why Design Interface couldn't pave Branch so it could be used, but Edward Wilson, of Design Interface, indignantly said he wouldn't dream of paving a street he didn't own.

Sewers are also a problem, declared Lillian Gregg, 3 Madison. Miss Gregg said the laundry had back-up problems, and she warned of more difficulties if the houses are built.

Mr. Wilson told her the 11 units will produce only half the laundry's 4,000 gallons a day, and Wayne Patterson, Design Interface's engineer, said runoff would be less because the houses won't cover as much of the property as the laundry building does.

When board member held it since the board was formed in 1970 and was Township Planning Board chairman before that. A nominating committee will report in December, he said.

Miss Gregg advised Miss Gregg to tell Borough Council about the sewer problem, Miss Gregg said that the Borough only began sending engineers to work on the neighborhood's sewers after the townhouses were proposed.

In other matters, chairman Hans K. Sander announced he will not be available again for the chairman's job. He has

CAR FLIPS OVER

Driver Injured, Charged. John Clarke, 46, 57 N. Tulane Street, was charged with driving while impaired by alcohol and careless driving following a single car accident last Wednesday evening on Cleveland Lane near Elm Road.

Mr. Clarke was taken by the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad to Princeton Medical Center, where he was treated for a laceration of the nose and contusions and released. Alone, he had been pinned inside his overturned car and had to be freed with heavy rescue equipment. His 1973 sedan was demolished.

Upon his release, he was taken by Ptl. Peter Hanley, who investigated the mishap, to police headquarters where he agreed to take a Breathalyzer test administered by Sgt. Thomas Procaccino.

According to the investigation, the Clarke car jumped the south curb, traveled 24 feet and struck a utility pole, breaking it. The car continued on for another 75 feet and struck a tree. Still sliding out of control, it traveled another 57 feet before coming to rest upside down against a second pole.

Police report that as the car hit the pole it activated a burglar alarm on a panel at headquarters. In addition to notifying telephone and Public Service officials, police dispatched fire apparatus to wash down the dripping gasoline.

Car, Truck Collide. Charles N. Hart, 17, 25 Princeton Avenue, Hopewell, is in satisfactory condition in the Medical Center after his car collided Friday afternoon with a state Department of Transportation truck on Route 31, about a mile south of Route 518 spur. Originally, he was admitted in critical condition for treatment of head and internal injuries.

According to State Police, Mr. Hart lost control of his car and it spun into the opposite lane where it was struck on the driver's side by the truck. His passenger, Christopher Catogge, 16, Blawenburg Road, Hopewell, and the truck driver, Jefferey Callahan, 22 of Trenton, were both treated at the Medical Center for abrasions.

$900 RING STOLEN From Palmer Square Store. A platinum, diamond and sapphire ring valued at $900 was stolen last week from a Palmer Square store. Police declined to identify the store but said that it was not a jewelry store.

According to police, the suspect came into the store, browsed, left and then returned. He examined some rings for about 15 minutes and then left. The clerk was returning the ring tray when he noticed the ring missing.

The suspect was described in his 20s, 5-6', slim with short hair and a goatee. He was wearing an Eisenhower-style jacket. Pt. Kerry Klink investigated.

Monday between 3 and 10 a.m., someone stole $117 from the receipt area of Murray Theater in Murray-Dodge Hall on the Princeton University campus.

There were no signs of a forced entry, police said, adding that numerous persons have keys to the theater. Ptl. Bernard Lenhardt and Ptl. Kerry Klink responded to the call from the theater manager.

Aljon's Entered. Police, in investigating a 4:20 call last Wednesday morning reporting that there were noises coming from inside Aljon's Pizza and Sub Shop, 157 Witherspoon Street, discovered that the rear door had been forced open.

Called to the scene, the owner determined that $20 had been taken from a cash register. A day later, police investigated the theft of a CB radio valued at $165 and a 2-way radio and microphone from a car parked behind the WHWH building at 221 Witherspoon Street. The car had been forced open to reach the equipment which was owned by the radio station.

Two Purses Stolen. A woman's pocketbook was stolen Thursday from a classroom in a nursery school on Nassau Street. Police said the owner, a teacher at the school, had left her purse on her desk and left the room for about 45 minutes. Inside was a wallet containing $70.

The purse of an employee at the Alchemist and Barrister restaurant on Witherspoon Street containing $10 to $15 was stolen Sunday while the victim was at work. It was recovered the next day—minus the money—at the corner of Witherspoon and Wiggins.

There were four bicycle thefts, including two ten-speed models both valued at $150. One was removed from the front yard of a Cedar Lane resident and the other from a Graduate College archway. Both were unlocked.

A 10-speed, $135 bike was stolen during the night from a front porch on Dickinson Street and another 10-speed model ($150) was taken from a Spring Street front porch.

Medical Center Joins List of Applicants In Recent Zoning Cases Sheehan Is Suing

Timothy J. Sheehan is suing the Borough Zoning Board, the Medical Center and Borough zoning and building officials over the granting of bulk variances to the Princeton Medical Center last June. The Center which wants to add to its buildings, thus joins a growing list of zoning applicants sued by Mr. Sheehan.

Over the past few months, Mr. Sheehan has sued the Alchemist and Barrister, Design Interface, Carl Foss, I. Andrew Shelpuk and, in each case, the Borough Zoning Board over the granting of variances.

This time, Mr. Sheehan is also suing for himself. The Zoning Board denied him minor adjustment approval for his property at 357-9 Nassau.

In his suit against the Zoning Board and Medical Center, Mr. Sheehan charges that the Center showed "no credible evidence of the existence of hardship" within the meaning of the law, and presented no "competent, credible evidence" to satisfy the negative criteria. This means showing that the action asked for doesn't do any substantial detriment to the public good, and doesn't impair the intent of the zoning ordinance.

Besides, Mr. Sheehan says, the Zoning Board didn't make any "findings of fact" before reaching its decision in the Medical Center case.

HEADQUARTERS OPEN

For All Democrats. Democrats from Jimmy Carter on, now have a Princeton headquarters. It's at 254 Nassau Street, and it opened officially Saturday.

The office is being financed by the Princeton Community Democratic Organization with support from Democratic campaigns. Borough, Township, Mercer County, the Congressional District and the White House are the areas of concern. The only campaign not involved is that of Harrison Williams, running for re-election to the Senate.

The headquarters will be open seven days a week and evenings when possible. The telephone is 921-0670.

NEPOTISM?

School Board Member Raises Issue. Robin Wallack, sometimes a maverick minority-of-one on the Princeton Regional School Board, is disturbed by the presence on the payroll of children of board members.

Last week, she protested the routine payment of bills because the son of a school board member had had a summer job with the school system. She introduced a resolution against hiring of any child or parent of a board member, declaring that not only conflict of interest, but the appearance of conflict of interest should be avoided.

The board voted to send her proposal to its policy committee for consideration at its October meeting.

In a Word: Wet
Mold inside my Squishy shoes;
Got those
"Rainy Sunday"
Blues

Four straight days of rain starting last Thursday ended—but only temporarily—with sunshine Monday, followed by more of what we were once short of thoroughly in the spirit of things by now, the Man says he can foresee showers as a possibility Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

He wouldn't venture an opinion about Sunday, but did admit that after all the rain that has fallen the past two Sundays, the odds, at least, are in mankind's favor.

"This is not a personal thing, against any person on the board," Mrs. Wallack emphasized later. "It's a matter of sensitivity. But the board doesn't feel there is even the appearance of conflict. I tried, in August, but I couldn't even get any discussion. I just think it's wrong, and it is continuing."

Mrs. Wallack pointed out that the Borough has a policy against appointing the spouse of any Council member to serve on any committee.

The child's father is board member Winthrop Pike. The son of board president Dietrich Meyerhofer has also been on the payroll as operator of the tape recorder at public meetings.

"DISTRICT I"

Planning Board to Discuss. The current status of the "District I" study will be the subject of a special meeting of the Princeton Regional Planning Board to be held next Wednesday, October 13, at 8 p.m. in Borough Hall.

"District I" is the center of Princeton, the built-up area that includes portions of the Township as well as the Borough. It is part of the housing study the Planning Board has been developing.

The special meeting is open to the public, but only board members and staff may speak unless the chairman of the board decides otherwise.

MYSTERY NIGHT!

Instead of "Mischief Night," it'll be "Mystery Night" this year instead of "Mischief Night." At least, it will for the Princeton Arts Council and those who prance into the Arts Council's Hallowe'en Parade the night of Saturday, October 30. (Library to the PHS auditorium, 6 p.m., rain date Sunday.)

Last year, Borough Democrats financed the Hallowe'en parade.

A permit has been obtained for "vehicles up to 15 m.p.h.", which probably includes decorated tricycles but probably not skateboards. The permit also allows, according to Council president Anne Reeves, "as many animals as we like—live or not."

All secondary schools will be working with Zelda Laschever to achieve Hallowe'en effects. McCarter Theatre and Creative Theatre Unlimited have also joined the fun.

Mrs. Reeves was re-elected Arts Council president at the recent annual meeting. Other officers are Pierre Coutin and Caren Sturges, vice-president; Janet Butcher, secretary and Ann O'Brien, treasurer.

SUSPECT IS CHARGED

With Breaking and Entering. A 19-year old New Brunswick man was arrested last week and charged with the breaking and entering of a Princeton-Kingston Road home.

Joseph R. Morgan was apprehended at 11:21 Friday morning by Det. Samuel Bianco in the vicinity of the home of Miss Frances F. Jones, 1041 Princeton-Kingston Road. He had received a description of a suspicious person by Ptl. Mario Musso, answering a burglary-in-progress alarm at that address.

Police said their investigation revealed the home had been entered through a rear door. It was vacant at the time.

Morgan was arraigned the same day before Township Judge Philip S. Carchman and released in $2500 bail, awaiting action by a Mercer County Grand Jury. Det. Bianco, Ptl. Musso and Det. Norman Servis are continuing the investigation.

Pays $110 Fine. Johnny L. Russell, 23, of Trenton, was arrested Friday by the Trenton Police on a Township warrant charging Russell with failure to pay a fine on a previous conviction of shoplifting.

He was later released after paying a $110 fine and court costs.

Another Trenton resident, Luis Rigos, 19, was arrested last week in Ewing Township by Princeton Township Ptl. Mario Musso, who had a warrant charging Rigos with contempt of court.

Police said that Rigos had failed to appear in court to answer a charge of shoplifting. He was later released in 10 percent cash bond of $250 bail and was scheduled to appear in Township court this Wednesday.

In another arrest last week, Melvin T. Miller, 20, 51 Leigh Avenue, was charged with trespassing.

Police said he was found in Lourie-Love Hall on the Princeton University campus at 1:30 in the morning on September 21 by Proctor Samuel McKelvey. Miller was later released pending his appearance in court.

Pretzel Vendor Charged. Twenty-one year old Owen E. Nahmias of the Bronx was arrested Saturday and charged with soliciting without a permit.

He was arrested on the east side of Palmer Stadium by Ptl. Mario Musso, who charged him with selling pretzels without a permit during the Brown game. Nahmias was released in $25 bail.

COMPUTERS AND ARTS

Adult School Lecture Topic. A non-technical lecture, geared to the art lover and layman, "Some Uses of Computers in the Arts," will be given by James Seawright, director of the visual arts program at Princeton University in the third of the Princeton Adult School's popular special lecture series "The Many Faces of Art." His talk is scheduled for Thursday, October 14, at 8 in the Princeton High School library.

Lectures, for the series, a big hit in terms of enrollment, are held in the informal atmosphere of the high school library inviting a relaxed ambience that makes for a lively discussion. At Arnold Roth's opening lecture on the art of cartooning, more than 45 participants joined in the ensuing discussion, with several becoming so enthusiastic over the lecture that they enrolled for the series. Lectures are available on an individual or series basis.

Mr. Seawright, whose work is represented in the collections of the Museum of Modern Art, the Whitney, Guggenheim and New Jersey State Museums as well as other major public and private collections, will give a description of some sculptures that use the computer for theatrical effect and how the artist can make use of the computer in his work.

DEAN TAKES LEAVE

For China Trip. Adele Simmons, dean of student affairs at Princeton University, left Wednesday for China and will be on leave of absence from the university for one month. Associate Dean Halcyone Bohen will serve as acting dean until November 8.

THE ENGINE THAT COULDN'T: Princeton University security was forced to block off both ends of Faculty Road Tuesday afternoon during the 5 o'clock traffic rush because of this stalled five-car freight train on a siding adjacent to the "Dinky" tracks. Thick, overgrown weeds and grass underneath the engine acted as a lubricant and caused the driver wheels to spin. Caboosa at the opposite end was close enough to Faculty Road to operate the gate-lowering mechanism. Dinky traffic was not affected.

Dean Simmons and her husband, John L. Simmons, an economist of the World Bank, were invited on short notice to participate in a National Leadership Tour sponsored by the U.S.-China People's Friendship Association.

SMOYERS GIVE $15,000

For Tennis Lights. At the Recreation Board meeting last week, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Smoyer of 86 Olden Lane offered to donate up to $15,000 toward lighting the six hard-surface tennis courts at Community Park. This is half of the estimated $30,000 cost.

Mr. Smoyer, in making the offer, told the board, Recreation Director R. Donald Barr reported, that the lights were a worthwhile community project needed for some time.

"The Board agrees with that," Mr. Barr said. "The big stumbling block has been financing but I think this will spur the project on." To complete the project, matching funds of $7500 would have to come from the economist of the World Bank, Borough and Township. Mr. Barr said that he hoped the two municipalities would appropriate the other 50 percent.

There have been requests from tennis players over the years to light the courts but the board has demurred, citing the cost in relation to other recreational needs.

Mr. Smoyer told the board that he hoped his action would influence others in the community to contribute to other worthwhile projects. Both Mr. and Mrs. Smoyer are former members of Township Committee and he is chairman of the Princeton Community Bicentennial Commission.

CB RADIO STOLEN

Football Fan Victim. Thomas Breese of Cranbury told police last week that his 23 channel citizens band radio was stolen while he was watching the football game in Palmer Stadium.

Police report thae door of his station wagon was pried open while it was parked in the lot off Broadmead. The unit was valued at $180.

Station Window Broken. A beer bottle was hurled last week through a 17 by 32-inch bay window at a service station at 287 Witherspoon Street.

Owner Joseph Esposito told police that he discovered the vandalism when he arrived at work at 6:50 in the morning. Ptl. Harry Morton reported that it appeared that no attempt had been made to enter the station.

FOUR ARE FINED

In Township Court. Four Princeton area residents were fined last week by Judge Philip Carchman in Township court.

Gary W. Marshall, 68 Clay Street, was fined $20 for going the wrong way on a one-way street and an additional $15 for contempt of court. Helen Kemp, Orchard Road, Skillman, paid $35, unlicensed driver; Leverett W. Lewis, 13 Newlin Road, paid $30, careless driving, and Derek A. Wilcox, Princeton Junction, paid $25, speeding.

In Borough criminal court last week, Andre Hatcher, 52 Leigh Avenue, denied a charge of trespassing but was found guilty and fined $15. Princeton University proctor

Relics of Marquand Chapel, Destroyed By Fire in 1920, Discovered on Campus

Flames destroyed the old Marquand Chapel on the Princeton University campus on May 14, 1920.

Phoenix-like, a splendid new chapel arose nearby from the ashes of the old. But more of the old remained than anyone realized until the digging this fall of a deep watermain trench paralleling the chapel walls.

"You can even see the stonework of the old foundations," is the excited observation of Frederic Fox, Keeper of Princetoniana at Princeton University. "There are pieces of stained glass, an old bronze plaque we haven't been able to read yet, bits of the old Victorian crockery they used for after-chapel coffee. I turned that over to the ladies who serve after-chapel coffee today, just as other ladies did in those days."

Black marble, white-veined, may have been part of the altar or the flooring around it, Dr. Fox believes.

"and ENORMOUS stones, carved pillars, big pieces of steel. The most remarkable thing of all, is that charred timbers—burned in the fire over half a century ago, you know—they still have that smell of fire and burned wood!"

Marquand Chapel was built in 1881. Dr. Fox has no sentimental illusions about its value as a monument.

"Providential, that fire, providential I won't say 'lucky.' But that ornate old Victorian thing! Why, it was worse than Alexander Hall because it was a chapel, not something secular like Alexander. And when you get real vulgarity combined with reverence..."

SHOPPING CART CAPER

FORD'S BETTER IDEAS FOR 1977... HERE TODAY.

A completely new Thunderbird $5434*, as shown.

Leaner, cleaner and 10 inches trimmer in size—the '77 Thunderbird still has the special luxury features that make it famous. The sticker price of the Thunderbird above, even with optional vinyl roof, bodyside moldings, whitewall tires and more, is an unbelievable $5434.

Standard features include: power front disc brakes, power steering, automatic transmission, 302-cubic-inch V-8, full wheel covers, AM radio, electric clock and steel-belted radials. So, Thunderbird luxury is now more than ever within reach.

BETTER IDEAS...YOUR FORD DEALER'S GOT A LOT OF THEM.

A new car: LTD II. Quality like an LTD. Sporty like a Mustang II.

For a 6-passenger car that's trimmer in size and price than LTD, choose Ford's new LTD II. It combines LTD's quality with a sporty spirit all its own. And all LTD II and Ford LTD prices include V-8, SelectShift automatic, power steering, and more standard.

The full-size car that kept its size... Ford LTD.

While some car makers are making their full-size cars shorter and narrower, the '77 Ford LTD hasn't been reduced by a single inch! It has a longer wheelbase than the down-sized Olds 98, Buick Electra, Chevrolet Caprice and Impala. And LTD still gives you its traditionally smooth, quiet ride, and interior space.

Ptl. Joseph Wilhelm and Ptl. Victor Fasanoella as they were allegedly attempting to load a car into their van were Thomas Napolitano, 31, and Philip Kingston, 56, both of the Bronx, and Leon Toledo, 18, of Miami Beach.

Each was issued a complaint summons charging them with larceny and requiring their presence in Borough Court October 20. Police were called by a witness to the attempted theft, Chief Carnevale said.

DRUG CHARGE MADE

Against Prep School Students. Chris Metcalf, 18, and Robert Riley, 18, both residents of Lake Forrest, Ill. and students at Lawrenceville School, were arrested Friday evening by Det. Ronald Holliday who saw the two allegedly smoking marijuana behind a St. Paul's School hedge.

Both were charged with possession of marijuana and later released, pending their appearance October 20 in Borough court.

BIKE THIEVES NABBED

By Police on Campus. Two men seen carrying locked bicycles across the Princeton University campus last week were apprehended on Washington Road near McCosh Hall by security police.

Charged with larceny and possession is Kirke Smith, 23, of Greenview Avenue. Scott Mateuszewski, 23, of Perth Amboy is charged with larceny and possession of burglar tools. Smith was released in $500 bail. Mateuszewski in $250 bail. Each is scheduled to appear in court October 20.

Responding to a call by University Security police that they had the two in custody were Sgt. Thomas Michaud, Ptl. William Fitch and Ptl. Monica Sheehan.

OPEN HOUSE SATURDAY

For Nero and Williams. There will be an open house and reception for Senator Harrison A. Williams Jr. and Frank F. Nero Saturday at 8 at the home of Frederick Bohen, 128 Fitzrandolph Road.

This will be one of the few opportunities for the Princeton community to meet with Senator Williams and Mr. Nero before the election. Mr. Nero is running against Millicent Fenwick for Congress in the 5th District. Senator Williams is running for his term in the U.S. Senate.

The public is invited to attend.

FALL BUS TOURS SET

By Historical Society. Three fall bus trips have been planned by the Historical Society to appeal to architectural, historical and cultural interests.

The first trip has been scheduled for Thursday, October 14, to Pennsylvania Plantation in Ridley Creek State Park, Edgemont, Pa. and to Brandywine River Museum and Battlefield in Chadds Ford. The Plantation recreates a typical southeastern Pennsylvania farm of the 1770's; the museum contains works of several generations of painters who worked in the Brandywine valley, including Howard Pyle, Maxfield Parrish and the Wyeth family; and the Battlefield offers a reconstructed Georgian stone house used by Washington as headquarters during the Battle of Brandywine in 1777.

The bus will leave the Acme parking lot in the Princeton Shopping Center at 9 and return at 6:30. The cost, including transportation and admission fees, is $10 for members, $12 for non-members. A gourmet box lunch is available for an additional $2.50.

Reservations are limited. Call the Historical Society, 921-6748. Future trips include one to three mansions in New York City on October 28 and another to Doylestown to see Fonthill, mansion of Dr. Henry C. Mercer, archaeologist and manufacturer of pottery and tile, his tile and pottery works and the Mercer Museum.

CAR WASH SATURDAY

By Stuart Students. Ninth grade class at Stuart Country Day School will hold a car wash on Saturday from 10 - 4 at the Princeton Hook and Ladder No. 1 on Harrison Street. A bargain price of $1.50 will entitle each car to a wash so clean that its chrome will sparkle, say the students.

Gabrielle DiBianco and Megan Thanner are responsible for the event.

DEATH PENALTY TOPIC Of Public Forum. The American Whig-Clisophic Society at Princeton University has offered a forum to the American Civil Liberties Union of New Jersey for a discussion of restoration of the death penalty.

Prompted by last June's Supreme Court decision that the death penalty is not inherently unconstitutional, a number of bills have been introduced in the New Jersey legislature restoring capital punishment under the guidelines of the court's decision. The ACLU, in its continued opposition to the death penalty, hopes that an informed public will oppose this return.

On Thursday, October 7, at 8 p.m. at Whig Hall on the Princeton University campus, a 15-minute film, "Cruel and Unusual Punishment", will be shown. This will be followed by a panel discussion moderated by Prof. Maitland Jones.

Panelists will be Bergen County Prosecutor Joseph Woodcock; Tufts University philosophy professor Hugo A. Bedau, former president of the N.J. Council to Abolish Capital Punishment; and Prof. Steven Schulhofer of the University of Pennsylvania Law School.

WINNERS LISTED
At Rocky Hill Bid 'n' Buy. Although the sun wasn't shining, the Rocky Hill Bid 'n' Buy drew large crowds last Saturday, produced several winners in the three item raffle and the produce contest and bestowed an annual service award.

The town's Perpetual Purple Moose Award for services of time and talent above and beyond the call of duty was presented to Laura Stabler. A past Bid 'n' Buy chairman, Mrs. Stabler has been deeply involved in many areas of the Rocky Hill community since the family moved here from California. In addition to the Bid 'n' Buy, she has been involved with the Flower Sale, the Rocky Hill Gazette, the Mary Jacobs Memorial Library, the tennis courts and the Bicentennial Gala.

Raffle winners included the Morgan family of Kendall Park who won the Red Oak tree; Sara Wiener of Brooklyn, mother of Mrs. Norma Goetz of Rocky Hill, won the silk flower centerpiece; and the terrarium was won by Carl Robbins of Rocky Hill who was the 1973 Perpetual Moose Award Winner. Molli Mezrich of Rocky Hill won the Gourmet Raffle Basket, Mary Squitieri of Princeton won the Apron Raffle, and three china dolls were won by Barbara Manka, Diane Drake, and Fred Ward.

Many residents brought in their largest home-grown produce specimens to vie for the blue ribbons. Some of the winners were Sam Bahadurian, pumpkin; Peggy Shafer, green pepper and potato; Jason Squitieri, carrot; Charlie Anderson, apple; Nicole and Sean Briggs, rhubarb; and Joe Brill, green bean.

CANDIDATES NIGHT SET
In West Windsor. Candidates Night will be held Wednesday, October 13, at 7:30 at the West Windsor-Plainsboro High School on Clarksville Road in West Windsor. This event is sponsored by the Princeton Area League of Women Voters, the West-Windsor Civic Association and the West Windsor-Plainsboro High School Legal and Political Experience Course.

Federal government candidates for the Senate, Harrison Williams and David Norcross, will be present.

House candidates Millicent Fenwick and Frank Nero will also participate. In addition, the candidates for the office of Mercer County Freeholder who will be present are Daniel Anderson, Rodman Harris, Albert Driver, James Hedden, Joseph Piskorski, John Pierson III, Barbara Sigmund, and Paul Sollami. West Windsor Township candidates will be present for informal talks over coffee at 10 to which Princeton Borough and Township candidates have also been invited.

PAPER DRIVE FRIDAY
For Franklin Residents. The Franklin High School Band Parents Association will hold their monthly paper drive on Friday after 6 p.m. with curbside pickup of newspapers, bundled or brown-bagged; magazines; and computer cards and printouts without carbon paper.

Curbside pickup will take place in the predesignated PBA area. Paper may also be brought to the Franklin High School parking lot on Saturday from 9 until noon.

Four Somewhat Similar Township Candidates Sort Out Issues in Race for Two Vacancies

Town Topics, Princeton, N.J., Thursday, Oct. 7, 1976 • 12

So far, the political campaign in the Township doesn't seem to have issues that sharply divide Republicans from Democrats. A voter from the Viking Lander district of Mars would have trouble distinguishing the four, pleasantly tweedy male candidates from one another. Except that one has a beard.

Township voters will be asked to choose one of these four to fill the remaining two years in the term that got off to a ragged start last year when a voting machine broke. The present appointed holder of that seat, Abbot Low Moffat, decided not to run. Whoever wins will take the seat in November, immediately following the election.

Hugo Hoogenboom

William Cherry

TWO-YEAR TERM

David Blair, (D), Princeton-Kingston Road, is a mechanical engineer doing anti-pollution and energy conservation research at the Exxon labs, and he is an adjunct associate professor of resident mechanical engineering at Columbia. He is a graduate of it — they grab your shirt!" Dr. Oregon State and holds a PhD from Columbia. He came to Princeton in 1958.

William Cherry, (R), 24 Dempsey Avenue, holds a county, state degree in physics from M.I.T. and a PhD from Princeton. Now retired, he was a research physicist and Township government costs systems analyst at RCA. He only 18 percent of the has lived in Princeton for 34 property-tax dollar, and he years and in the Township for doesn't think the Township can do anything major to reduce that.

THREE-YEAR TERM

Hugo Hoogenboom, (R), A United States citizen born in the Netherlands, he has a law degree from Washington and if they're on a fixed income. Lee and has worked in the Federal Department of people live here, especially Health, education and Welfare those who work here."

John W. Bauman Jr., (D) A graduate of the University of Southern California, he holds a PhD from the University of California at Berkeley. Formerly with the ex-perimental medicine Corporation to build 650 department at the New Jersey Neuropsychiatric Institute, he part of the municipality. All now teaches physiology at the candidates are aware that New Jersey College of Medicine in Newark. He has lived in Princeton for 15 years.

"I think there is a difference in philosophy, in perspective, between Democrats and Republicans in the Township," Mr. Bauman says. "It seems to me Republicans focus mainly on taxes and getting rateables. We're interested in preserving the Princeton we have, and maintaining the social mix."

"We have, for example, Italian families who have lived among their Italian neighbors for 50 years, having built their own houses. Well, taxes go up, property values increase, and they can't afford to live here. These are masons, gardeners, who can't get the benefits of union wages, or they are retired on a fixed income."

"I'm willing to face the fact that we must pay a price to keep these families here, to keep that mix. I owe it to them to help as much as I can."

"I support the idea of subsidies, if they are feasible, to help keep this social mix."

John W. Bauman Jr.

and we should quickly get it into useable form. We must know what the land can bear for a rational basis of growth."

Developments Questloored. David Blair and John Bauman want more Dravo data. "The Township has the objective of developing rationally, but a large corporation's objective is to make money," Mr. Blair says. "It isn't necessarily consonant with the good of the community for a corporation to come in here with a development. The impact of such a large development! We must look very carefully."

Mr. Hoogenboom doesn't think population projections of the Planning Board's housing sub-committee are applicable for growth in the '70s.

"The goal of this housing sub-committee: housing so that people who work here can live here, is what we want, but their initial reports show an awful lot of housing over 14 years. I would argue that it should be done in ways that respect the environment and the neighborhoods, more than the Yedlin project did."

Democrat John Bauman says he wants caution on low-income housing to prevent development of a ghetto. "Maintain a mix within the development," he urges.

William Cherry fears people moving in from outside Princeton. He sees a desire for apartments, but he adds, "It's not clear to me that the Township needs to be the location, and if we have subsidized housing with modest rentals, two million people would sign up!"

"There's a conflict," Mr.

BAUMAN Jr.

DEMOCRAT FOR PRINCETON TOWNSHIP COMMITTEE

A determined fighter for Princeton's environment, John Bauman organized and led to a successful conclusion "Concerned Citizens Against the Tower Office Complex." In the fifteen years he and his family have lived here Mr. Bauman has compiled a consistent record of local concern and involvement. A longtime member of the Sierra Club, he has labored steadily in support of the Princeton Recycling Project. For the past eight years he's served as Director of the Adult Summer Tournaments of the Community Tennis Program. He has also been a Democratic County Committeemen and member of the Executive Board of the PCDO. A native Californian, John Bauman served as a naval Officer in World War II and is a graduate of the University of Southern California with a PhD from the University of California at Berkeley. Formerly a Section Head in the Experimental Medicine Department at NJN-PI, he currently teaches Physiology at the New Jersey College of Medicine in Newark. Bauman and his wife Sally (a teacher at the Institute for Advanced Studies Nursery School) live on Mt. Lucas Road and have four children, all graduates of Princeton High School.

A Real Asset. From the Republican side, Mr. Hoogenboom is also concerned about keeping the Township's diversity.

"We have long-time residents here — they aren't citizens perhaps, they can't read English, they are retired or widowed, and they are having to move away. We must strive to control events so that we don't lose this enormous human diversity."

"People talk about 'Keeping Princeton Princeton.' That

Engagements and Weddings

ENGAGEMENTS

Schluter-Thurston. Nancy C. Schluter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Schluter of 205 Main Street, Pennington, to Stephen E. Thurston, son of William P. Thurston Jr. of Richmond, Va., and Mrs. Valerie Tidwell of Knoxville, Tenn. A December wedding is planned.

Miss Schluter is a graduate of Princeton Day School and Williams College. Mr. Thurston graduated from St. Christopher's School in Richmond and from Williams College. He is a second year medical student at the Medical College of Virginia.

Pierzanowski-Buccheri. Mary A. Pierzanowski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Pierzanowski, 946 Mulberry Street, Lawrenceville, to Frank R. Buccheri, son of Mrs. Kathryn Dubie of Trenton. They plan an April wedding.

The bride-elect, a graduate of Notre Dame High School and Mercer County Community College, is a dental assistant to Dr. Stanley J. Kazior. Her fiancé is a graduate of Lawrence High School and is manager of the Lawrenceville Shell Service Station.

DEMOCRAT FOR PRINCETON TOWNSHIP COMMITTEE

Frequently consulted as an expert witness in litigation involving mechanical equipment, David Blair offers a valuable area of expertise to Princeton Township Committee. A Mechanical Engineer engaged in anti-pollution and energy conversion research at the Exxon Research Laboratories, he is also an Adjunct Associate Professor of Mechanical Engineering at Columbia University. Blair is a graduate of Oregon State University and holds both MS and PHD degrees from Columbia. Blair and his family moved to Princeton in 1958, and since then have become dedicated supporters of local environmental concerns. His wife, Rosemary (an art teacher in the Princeton Regional School System) and his six children, ages 11 to 21, have participated in a wide variety of Princeton organizations and activities. Mr. Blair recently was part of the successful opposition to a Terhune Loop Road. He and his family are outdoor enthusiasts fond of biking, hiking and camping. He presently serves on the Board of the Herrontown Woods Committee. The Blairs live on Princeton-Kingslon Road.

Blair says, "between people who want apartment houses all over the map, and people who say 'I want to be the last one to move here'. I just don't want development on a make-a-buck basis."

Shirt Lost. Dr. Cherry has been a frequent opponent of the Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Authority's contract with the Township. "It may be a pipe-dream," he says, "but I want a renegotiated contract. The Township should have been firmer, and as a result, we lost our shirt. I suggest appointment of a committee to hire a lawyer and see whether we could work out a new contract. I would work with the Borough, although they're relatively unaware of the environmental aspects. It's the Township that gets ripped up." "It's such a complex issue!" Mr. Hoogenboom continues, "People didn't have a chance, but the town is full of people with expertise who could have reduced everything to English so it could be understood."

David Blair, from the Democratic side, says people don't feel they have any "say" in planning, and feel they aren't listened to when the experts sit on the boards.

Mr. Bauman, an opponent of the Yedlin project because of his concern about ghettos, has appeared frequently before Township bodies and says he has found them "extremely interested and intelligent," although he feels the 14-member Planning Board is too unwieldy.

"More and more Township issues are technical," Mr. Blair says, "I can go to the core of all the technical detail and tell whether the experts are right or not. Experts know how to conceal their ignorance behind volumes of figures, but I know how to slice through all that."

Next week, TOWN TOPICS will return to a consideration of the Borough race. Another Township story will appear October 21.

ADULT WORKSHOPS SET

By Helikon. Overheard conversations, Eskimo poetry, last night's dream and classical Chinese verse are all ways to begin writing about one's own experience. Rod Tulloss, poet and writer, will show how these sources can make the language work for you in a workshop series entitled, "Open Writing Workshop for Adults," sponsored by the Helikon Writing Program. It begins Monday evening, at 8 at the Unitarian Church and will run for eight weeks.

Mr. Tulloss, who has been associated with writing groups since 1969 when he co-founded the Berkeley Poets Cooperative, and later, U.S. 1 Poets Cooperative, will use the small group approach to stimulate and encourage writing—both poetry and prose. The emphasis will be on informal conversations, oral readings, and group responses to established writers and to group members. Interested adults and high school students may attend the first session free by reservation, and as space permits.

Helikon also will offer the Women's Writing Workshop on Wednesday mornings beginning October 13. It will be led by Joyce Greenberg, poet and co-author of Helikon's new book, "In Our Own Words: an anthology of women's experience." For information, and reservations and brochure, call 924-5782, or 921-2426.

POW TO SPEAK

On 26 Years Lived in China. The U.S.-China People's Friendship Association will sponsor a discussion Sunday at 2 in Clio Hall with Jim Veneris, an ex-POW from the Korean War who has lived in China for the past 26 years.

Here in the United States on a visit to his mother and three sisters, Mr. Veneris still considers China his home. He lives in a town of 250,000 south of Peking on the Yellow River where he works in a paper mill and lives in a six room house. His first wife died of tuberculosis, and in 1966 he married a widow with four children with whom he has had two more children.

He attended Peking University where he received a degree in social sciences and speaks highly of a country with little crime, no prostitution and no more opium. He will speak briefly of his capture and his life in China and then will answer questions and speak on any topic the audience desires. The public is invited.

Building Plans Clarified.
To the Editor of Town Topics:
The cover article in your issue of September 30, 1976, contained a statement that no new (biochemistry) building is planned by the University.
The University has made known for many years that a new building for biochemistry is an important need and we have been in the process of planning one for some time. The focus of that planning is on a site adjacent to Frick Chemistry Laboratory, although no proposal has yet been put forward for approval by our Trustees.

When the planning becomes clearer we will, as we have in the past, make information about the proposal available to the community before taking it before the Regional Planning Board.

The planning process for the building in no way conflicts with the work of the University committee, chaired by Professor Robert M. May, which is considering the kinds of research involving potentially biohazardous materials which should or should not be undertaken. The kind of genetic research which is of primary concern to the committee, and which is not currently being done at the University, constitutes only a small part of bio-chemical endeavor. The basic structure and layout of the proposed building are standard and do not prejudice in any way the deliberations of the committee.

JOHN P. MORAN

1-95 Meeting Here Sought.
To the Editor of Town Topics:
Following is a letter to Alan Sagner, Commissioner of Transportation for the State of New Jersey. I hope that other Princeton residents will write to Mr. Sagner asking for the Princeton meeting. The address is 1035 Parkway Avenue, Trenton, N.J. 08625.
I want to tell you how much the Princeton Township Committee appreciates the N.J. Department of Transportation's willingness to make public the plans for the I-95 Environmental Impact Study and to appoint technical and policy advisory committees to review technical progress as these studies progress. (See our resolution 9-9-76). It is our hope that we will be hearing the details on this from the Department in the near future.

However, Princeton Township would still like to meet with you or representatives of the Department of Transportation on the I-95 question. When I previously asked Mr. William Matthews for a Princeton meeting, he told me that Princeton citizens could attend one of the other meetings. I attended the I-95 meetings in Hopewell and Montgomery recently. Believe me, I felt that I was usurping valuable time allotted to those communities.

The Princeton community has many citizens who commute and return home late. Many of them simply cannot get to a meeting half an hour away by 7:30 p.m. In addition, although Princeton has many concerns which parallel Hopewell and Montgomery's, there are others which are uniquely ours.

In view of the fact that 25 of the 34 proposed alignments go through either Princeton or southern Montgomery and that 15 of these transverse Princeton Township while neither Flemington nor

A PERSONAL BANKER
For First National Depositors, United Jersey Banks, of which First National of Princeton is a member, is introducing "Yes Plus," a new concept in New Jersey banking that enables customers to cash checks without delay in amounts up to $250 at any of the company's 117 banking offices throughout the state and to have checks up to $100 honored by participating merchants. Nearly 2,000 merchant outlets throughout the state have signed up for the program.

"Customers will need no other identification when they present their 'Yes Plus' cards and personal checks at any of our banking offices or to participating merchants," Kenneth H. Fisher, president of United Jersey Banks, said. "Yes Plus," which stands for Your Extra Service, is the first new major retail banking service to be offered statewide by any group of New Jersey banks, and one of the first of its type introduced by a major bank holding company in the nation.

Mr. Fisher added that check cashing is just one phase of the new program which is being offered customers now and will be extended to the general public in the next few weeks. The only requirement for the service is that an individual must qualify for a free checking account with cash reserve, and have or open a new savings account with one of UJB's 14 member banks.

Each "Yes Plus" cardholder will be assigned a personal banker who will help the customer with all his banking requirements. The personal banker will keep in contact with the customer, and assist him with all his financial needs, including home mortgage financing as well as personal and auto loans with discounts, open various accounts and introducing him to a staff member of a United Jersey Bank who can handle special services such as estate planning and trusts.

Customers who qualify for the new program will receive "no-bounce" free checking. The account will have no minimum balance requirement, no per-check charge and will permit checks to be covered, depending upon a customer's credit limit, to a maximum of $5,500. In addition, customers will receive an unlimited supply of free imprinted standard checks.

"Yes Plus" customers will be given a discount of one-quarter of one percent on the interest charged for personal, auto and vacation loans. Other services they will enjoy include:

- Free telephone transfers between five percent statement savings accounts and checking accounts.
- Free automatic savings transfers from checking accounts to five percent statement savings accounts—weekly, monthly or at intervals of the customer's choice.
- One Statement Banking. Each month the customer receives one statement summarizing banking trans-

A WEDDING GIFT FROM PRINCETON VW: The day before Jack and Shelley McMenus of Bedle Street in Belle Mead were to be married, they received a letter from Robert Feldman (center), owner of Princeton VW on Route 206, telling them they had won a 1976 VW Rabbit. "We hung the letter on the door at our reception so all could read it. We were very excited about it," said Mrs. McMenus. The contest was sponsored by World Wide VW Corp. of Orangesburg, N.Y. and there was one winner in each of the three states of New Jersey, New York and Connecticut. The odds against the McMenuses winning: 1 in 100,000. "No," said Mr. McMenus, as he received the keys from Mr. Feldman, "this isn't the first thing I ever won. I won on a lottery ticket once--for $2.50."

CONTRACT AWARDED
For $497,000 to Gamma-Tech, Princeton Gamma-Tech has been awarded a $497,000 contract by the U.S. Bureau of Mines to develop a logging instrument for use in mineral exploration.

In announcing the project, Dr. Joseph A. Baicker, President of PGT, reported that the logging tool will be used to perform onsite chemical analysis of geological formations being drilled or explored. It will be used in the exploration of iron, nickel, copper, aluminum, uranium, coal and oil.

The project will be directed for PGT by Dr. Leonard Goldman, who noted that the technique used in the logging instrument is the only method now available for doing chemical analysis in a test-drilled borehole. Current methods consist of drilling and removing test cores, and analyzing them by conventional means in an analytical laboratory—a slow and expensive procedure compared with the gamma ray logging technique.

MANAGER NAMED
At RCA Labs, Elizabeth C. Palmer of 180 Franklin Corner Road, Lawrenceville, has been named manager, employee development and training at RCA Laboratories.

Mrs. Palmer received a B.A. degree in sociology from New York University in 1959 and has also studied at the University of Copenhagen. She joined RCA laboratories in 1962, was named a personnel representative four years later and was appointed Administrator, employee development training in 1973. She is secretary of the Mid-New Jersey Chapter of the American Society for Training and Development.

ACQUISITION LISTED

News Of The CHURCHES

TO HONOR SEXTON

At Trinity Church. Redmund Marrow, 204 John Street, and his wife Ruth will be given a reception in his honor and an opportunity to reminisce at the Adult Forum Sunday at 10:15. Mr. Marrow retired October 1 after 26 years as sexton of the church.

Mr. Marrow is well-known to two generations of parishioners for his faithful service to the church and for his wonderful sense of humor. He is also well known to the community at large for his meticulously crafted dollhouses and doll furniture. In past years Mr. Marrow has sometimes donated a fully furnished house to the Trinity Christmas Bazaar for sale to the highest bidder and for the benefit of the church.

The Rev. James Whittemore, rector, has designated Sunday as Redmund Marrow Day at Trinity. "We pay special tribute to a man who has served Trinity and her people longer than anyone in recent memory," he said.

CROP WALK OCT. 17

Participants Sought. The annual CROP Walk for the benefit of the world's hungry will commence on Sunday, October 17 at 1. The ten mile Walk, will begin and end at the Lutheran Church of the Messiah, 407 Nassau Street. The route will be the same as last year, winding from the church to Stockton Street to Mercer, down Alexander Road to Faculty Road and back to the church on the corner of Cedar and Nassau Streets.

Proceeds from the Walk will be used by CROP to furnish food and self-help resources through Church World Service, an interdenominational agency which assists people in more than 30 countries every year.

Since its inception in 1947, CROP has made available more than $100 million worth of resources to the world's hungry. Increasingly those resources are being utilized in programs that help people help themselves. Seeds, fertilizer, tools, and other agricultural development aid provided through community CROP projects enable farmers to increase crop production by dealing with the root causes of hunger.

Food from CROP is often used as wages in "Food-for-Work" projects wherein laborers construct schools, roads, and water systems, and receive the commodities as pay. Food-for-Work enables people to feed their families in dignity, without "handouts," while building for a more self-sufficient future.

CROP leaders will contact schools and churches in the greater Princeton area this week to enlist participants as walkers. Each walker obtains as many sponsors as possible who agree to pay to CROP a specified sum for each mile walked. Persons interested in helping should contact James Stender, 924-3642.

MINISTER CALLED

To Witherspoon Church. Witherspoon Street Presbyterian Church has called to the pastorate the Rev. Charles E. Quillen. Mr. Quillen, a native of Bogalusa, La., and a graduate of Belle California State University, Mead will introduce the lecturer. Arrangements are

Redmund Marrow

Smith Seminary, has been pastor of the Westminster Church at Tuskegee, Ala.

Mr. Quillen and his wife, the former Vernita Jamerson, have a daughter Jamie, born August 2. They expect to arrive in Princeton by mid-October and will reside at the church manse, 453 Walnut Lane.

LAYMAN'S SUNDAY SET
At Methodist Church. "Ministry of All Members" is the theme of Layman's Sunday, which will be celebrated Sunday at 11 at the United Methodist Church, Nassau and Vandeventer Streets.

Participating in the service will be Mrs. William Marciniak, Peter Hodge and Herbert Pate, who will present short meditations. The Pastoral Prayer will be delivered by Mrs. B. Woodhull Davis. Fred Beck will lead the Responsive Reading, and the Scripture for the day will be read by Alan Hickerson. The Benediction will be pronounced by Wayne Cooke.

Director of the Children's Choirs, Annette Sims, will lead the Girl's Choir in a special Layman's Sunday anthem, "You and I," by Natalie Sleeth. The service will be followed by an informal coffee hour in the Sanford-Davis Room adjoining the sanctuary. The Rev. Ronald Dyson is the minister.

PUBLIC LECTURE SET

By Christian Science Church. The First Church of Christ, 16 Bayard Lane, will sponsor a free public lecture Saturday at 11 in the Garden Theatre. Eugene D. Tye, C.S.B., of San Diego, Calif. will talk on "how Christ Jesus restores the sick and the sinning to wholeness." The title of his talk is "The Evidence: True or False?" Mr. Tye will discuss the mission of Jesus, which was "to prove what God is and what God does for man. His beloved son, to reveal the ever-present healing, saving, protecting, providing and governing activity of God." He will describe how he and his wife turned to God after a bomb exploded on an airplane in which they were passengers. He will also give several accounts of physical healing which were brought about through spiritual means.

Mr. Tye has spoken to public audiences in many parts of the world since becoming a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship in 1967. An active businessman at one time, he entered the full time healing ministry of Christian Science in 1957.

Mrs. Jeanne Miller of Belle Mead will introduce the lecturer. Arrangements are being coordinated by Mrs. Joyce Parker of Little Rocky Hill. The lecture is free and open to the public. No collection will be taken, and child care will be provided.

candidate. These distinctions may appear complicated to some readers, but I offer them here as a matter of record and clarification.

Further, certain local advertising has promoted the facade that she is a democratic candidate this year. The unvarnished truth is that she has been endorsed by nobody but the Republicans. Marvin Trotman is the duly elected candidate of the Democratic Party in the Borough, and Marv was voted into this position under the procedures and statutes governing such selections.

I do not want to debate the relative importance of these partisan labels in this brief letter; however, I do want to note that it is important to use such labels clearly and correctly. The voters deserve it.

Major Assistance Rendered.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

On behalf of the Arcamone Family of Princeton, we sincerely wish to thank the Princeton Rescue Squad, in particular, Michael Stachowicz, George Bess and Rod Montgomery, for their most welcome and unquestionably needed assistance in bringing Addie to Princeton Hospital from the University of Maryland Hospital, where she was being cared for in the Trauma & Shock Ward of the Intensive Care Unit as a result of having survived a critical car accident two weeks ago.

The Rescue Squad's speed and personal attention in picking Addie up and caring for her every need this great distance exemplifies the unselfishness of these dedicated men and instills the reassurance in one's mind that in times of emergency and need, these Angels of Mercy are ever present.

FLOODING IS ONE PRICE THE TOWNSHIP PAYS FOR UNCONTROLLED DEVELOPMENT

There can be others - poor water...bad air...more traffic.

The costs will keep going up unless we take action to find out how much really usable land we have - and how to use it without spoiling it.

BOOK FAIR PLANNED

At P.D.S. The annual Book Fair of the Princeton Day School will be held Monday through Friday with proceeds to benefit the school's two libraries. Mrs. Harold S. Powers and Mrs. Michael P. Barnett are chairmen of the Fair.

In connection with the benefit, Ralph Schoenstein of Cherry Valley Road, author of several books will meet with a group of students from the Upper School to discuss his recently-published book, "Yes, My Darling Daughters" (Adventures in Fathering).

Over a thousand books have been chosen for the sale by the chairmen in cooperation with the School faculty and the Book Mart on Palmer Square.

As in previous years, a special feature will be a selection of the Sierra Club and humorous children's calendars.

AUCTION SATURDAY

To Aid Lions' Projects. Many items have been gathered for the West Windsor Lions Club annual Auction Saturday at 9 in the Dey barn across from the Acme Market on Hightstown Road in Princeton Junction. The Camp Fire Girls will serve coffee, hot dogs and other food during the day.

The varied articles that have been donated include a matched diamond engagement and wedding ring set; a 6 x 3 foot oriental rug; a weekend in a cottage on Long Beach Island; a six-foot pool table; a cast iron open front heater; a silver mink stole; a two-piece electric range and 40 new women's pocketbooks. There are also lawnmowers, bicycles, cribs and play pens and a round five-foot diameter sofa.

Items are still arriving. Anyone interested in donating to this project, in which all the profits will be used for youth, blind and civic activities, may call the chairman, Howard Eldridge, at 452-9579 or any member of the Lions' Club.

2D SEMINAR PLANNED

On Aging Process. The YWCA will hold the second in its monthly aging seminar series on Monday, October 18, at 9:30 a.m. at the Y, Avalon Place. Designed to provide education and training to non-professionals as well as service workers, the topic will cover practical techniques and approaches to caring for the elderly.

Ruth Burke, registered nurse and social worker in geriatric and extended care, and Jocelyn Helm, Director of the Princeton Resource Center, will lead the seminar on "Caring for the Older Person in Your Home." Subjects to be covered include nutrition and diet, exercise, accident prevention, ways to maintain a sense of independence and orientation to time, place and person.

PUBLIC QUESTION NO. I

YES.	CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT CASINOS IN ATLANTIC CITY FOR THE BENEFIT OF SENIOR CITIZENS AND DISABLED RESIDENTS OF THE STATE
NO.	Shall the Constitution be amended, as agreed to by the Legislature, to authorize the Legislature to establish and regulate gambling casinos in Atlantic City, with the State's revenues therefrom being applied solely to reduce property taxes, rentals, and telephone, gas, electric and municipal utilities charges of eligible senior citizens and disabled residents of the State?
STATEMENT "Adoption of this amendment of the State Constitution would authorize the Legislature to provide for the establishment and operation under State regulation and control of gambling houses or casinos within the boundaries of Atlantic City and to license and tax their operations and equipment. Any law authorizing gambling establishments would provide that State revenues derived therefrom be applied solely for the purpose of reducing property taxes, rentals, telephone, gas, electric and municipal utility charges of senior citizens and disabled residents of the State who are made eligible for reductions in accordance with formulae established by the Legislature."

PUBLIC QUESTION NO. II

YES.	CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT RELATING TO HOMESTEAD REBATES OR CREDITS FOR SENIOR CITIZENS, DISABLED PERSONS OR THEIR SURVIVING SPOUSES.
NO.	Shall the amendment to Article VIII, Section I, paragraph 5 of the Constitution, agreed to by the Legislature providing a differential homestead rebate or credit to senior citizens, disabled citizens or their surviving spouses be adopted?
STATEMENT "Adoption of this amendment of the State Constitution would authorize the Legislature to provide for a differential homestead rebate or credit of a sum of money related to property taxes for the following classes of citizens and residents: (1) persons 65 years of age or more, (2) persons less than 65 years of age who are permanently and totally disabled under provisions of the Federal Social Security Act, or (3) persons 55 years of age or more who are the surviving husband or wife of a deceased citizen or resident of this State who received, or who would have been entitled to receive under this amendment and implementing legislation, a rebate or credit on property taxes."

PUBLIC QUESTION NO. III

YES.	MORTGAGE ASSISTANCE BOND ISSUE Should the "New Jersey Mortgage Assistance Bond Act of 1976," which authorizes the State to issue bonds in the amount of $25 million for mortgage assistance and to spur construction, rehabilitation and maintenance of housing, to enable such housing to be occupied by senior citizens and families of low and moderate income, to provide the ways and means to pay the interest of said debt and also to pay and discharge the principal thereof, be approved?
NO.	INTERPRETIVE STATEMENT Approval of this act would authorize the sale of $25 million in bonds to be used for mortgage and other assistance, the construction, or rehabilitation and maintenance of housing for senior citizens and for families of modest incomes, to loosen a tight housing market, to stimulate increased economic activity, to create useful job opportunities, in a time of high unemployment and to maximize the use of federal or other funds for these purposes

PUBLIC QUESTION NO. IV

YES.	CLEAN WATERS BOND ISSUE Should the "New Jersey Clean Waters Bond Act of 1976" which authorizes the State to issue bonds in the amount of $120,000,000 for the purposes of researching, planning, acquiring developing, constructing, and maintaining water supply, water pollution and sewerage treatment facilities, providing the ways and means to pay the interest of such debt and also to pay and discharge the principal thereof, be approved?
NO.	INTERPRETIVE STATEMENT Approval of this act would authorize the sale of $120,000,000 in bonds to be used for the development, construction, and maintenance of water supply, water pollution and sewerage treatment facilities

PUBLIC QUESTION NO. V

YES.	INSTITUTIONS CONSTRUCTION BOND ISSUE Should the "New Jersey Institutions Construction Bond Act of 1976" which authorizes the State to issue bonds in the amount of $80,000,000 for the renovation and improvement of State schools for the mentally retarded and hospitals for the mentally ill, the construction of new correctional facilities to accommodate the increase in the inmate population occurring as a result of more strict sentencing and speedier trials, to provide for the expansion of community mental health facilities, and to provide the means to pay the principal and interest on these bonds, be approved?
NO.	INTERPRETIVE STATEMENT Approval of this act would authorize the sale of $80,000,000 in bonds to be used for the renovation and improvement of schools for the mentally retarded and hospitals for the mentally ill, construction of new correctional facilities to accommodate the increase in the inmate population occurring as a result of more strict sentencing and speedier trials, and the expansion of community health facilities

PUBLIC QUESTION NO. VI

YES.	DEDICATION OF PERSONAL INCOME TAX NET RECEIPTS TO BE USED EXCLUSIVELY TO OFFSET OR REDUCE PROPERTY TAXES
NO.	Shall the amendment agreed to by the Legislature, to amend Article VIII, Section I of the Constitution of the State of New Jersey by adding a new paragraph to provide that the entire net receipts of any State tax levied on personal incomes of individuals, estates and trusts of this State shall be annually appropriated to the several counties, municipalities and school districts of this State exclusively for the purpose of reducing or offsetting property taxes, be adopted?
STATEMENT "Adoption of this amendment of the State Constitution would require net receipts from any State tax on personal incomes, estates and trusts of this State to be received in the State Treasury and placed in a perpetual fund to be annually appropriated by law to the several counties, municipalities and school districts exclusively for the purpose of reducing or offsetting property taxes."

PUBLIC QUESTION NO. VII

YES.	AMENDMENT GAMES INCREASE IN VALUE OF PRIZES AND ADMISSION CHARGE
NO.	Shall the amendment to the Amusement Games Licensing Law enacted by the Legislature authorizing an increase from $15 to $100 in the maximum retail value of prizes, and from $0.25 to $0.50 for the privilege of playing amusement games, be approved?

HARD AS WE TRY, we don't seem to be able to make every single one of our 30,000 telephone listings behave perfectly every year. So with red faced apologies, we ask your indulgence and a few minutes of your time to make the following corrections in your new 1977 Princeton Community Phone Book with the red cover. Please change the phone number of:

- Snyder's Sunoco Station on page 21 to read "921 9625".
- Sestak Builders on page 34 to read "for 466 2980".
- Harold E. Burkert, Insurance on pages 73 and 160 to read "466 2234" (in addition to "466 2235", which is also correct), and
- The English Shop on page 176 to read "924 7100".

Please also, on page 179, cross out the listing of A.R. Field, which is now unlisted.

Many thanks for your helpfulness in making these corrections for us.

The other 29,995 numbers appear to be OK, and we'll keep trying for 100 percent accuracy next year.

THIS MAN'S CASTLE

may be your future home. May, that is, if you like spacious rooms for gracious entertaining, need 7/8 bedrooms for a large family or many guests, think a library important, love lots of fireplaces, and find swimming and tennis on your own small estate a way of life. Set back on beautifully landscaped grounds, overlooking pastoral fields, and of course, in Princeton Borough's prime western section - this is a Jewel of a listing! Reasonable offers will be considered.

PERIOD PIECE

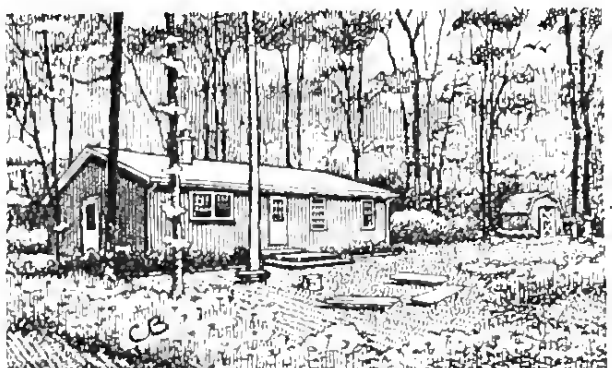

Much in demand among Princeton history buffs and old house lovers are the town houses designed by Charles Steadman in the early 19th century. This one, with its high ceilings, fine staircase, double living room with two fireplaces, and other authentic period details, is a particularly lovely one. Six bedrooms, four baths, spacious dining room, cozy study, good working kitchen, low maintenance grounds AND REDUCED $159,500

HIDDEN AWAY IN EDGERSTONE

An interesting early contemporary nestled into one of the prettiest lots in Edgerstone, this home was designed by its architect owner for his own family and has been lovingly maintained ever since. The living room with its raised hearth, cathedral ceiling and clerestory windows looks out on the secluded grounds with not another house in sight!

One wing consists of three good bedrooms, two baths, and a walk-in closet. Another (which you can't see in the sketch) has a spacious two-room suite with bath for in-laws, guests or parents. Excellent kitchen, dining room with warm brick on one side and wide glass on the other, and finished basement with workshop complete the interior of this solid as a rock, fully air-conditioned house. And views - beautiful views - of the very private, outstandingly landscaped grounds! $159,500

FIVE ROOMS ON FIVE ACRES

Out beyond Hightfields, the former Lindbergh estate, is the newest LIGHT listing. A pleasant 3 bedroom ranch, solidly built four years ago, and easily expandable, is set back from the road in the midst of its own lovely land.

Big living room with beamed ceiling, wide floor boards, and interesting rustic fireplace - excellent country kitchen - landscaping with railroad ties, evergreens and azaleas - complete seclusion but with neighbors nearby - and, of course, lovely old trees, bird song, deer and pheasant!

or maybe three - this rambling ranch has a contemporary air! Through a judicious and interesting blend of wood, glass and brick - with handsome two level redwood deck spanning the rear of the house and joining the living and bedroom wings, it brings the outdoors in - and the indoors out.

Informal living room with fireplace, separate and sunny dining room, large wood paneled 'country' kitchen, two bedrooms and two handsomely tiled baths. Huge two car heated garage (could become another room, central air conditioning - and the pool).

All set on an acre and a half in a pretty, quiet and rural location, with brook running through the grounds.

ALL THIS FOR $89,500 IN HOPEWELL BORO

The studio is a combination 2 car garage and workshop, dimensions being 32' x 22'. There is a powder room. The second floor boasts a 30.5' x 21' studio with cathedral ceiling and plaster walls with rough sanded finish. PROFESSIONAL-RESIDENTIAL ZONING enables this to be used as your working office and the house as your private residence. House offers 2 formal parlours both with fireplaces, dining room with fireplace and 4 bedrooms. Many other authentic Colonial details have been preserved such as random width tongue and groove pine doors, wrought iron hardware and more. Grounds are beautifully maintained and landscaped. $89,500.

"ABC" - Just that simple! Once you see this house, in this area and at this price, you won't look further. Lovely Victorian with LR, formal DR, eat-in kitchen, 4 bedrooms, 1 bath (another 1/2 easily installed), huge attic which would make a terrific multi-purpose room, and full basement.

Priced at only $42,000.

JUST A NICE LOCATION - On Province Line Road in Hopewell Twp. we have a remodeled 3 BR home, ready for you to move into. Entry foyer, LR, DR, eat-in kitchen, den and a room not yet finished that lends itself to being a laundry room. Cedar shake exterior. Two car detached garage. $56,000.

DO YOU HAVE A THING& for turning older homes into a show place? We have a listing that has charm and style that just can't be found in today's construction. A definite plus to the home was the addition of a large family room off the Dining room. Many possibilities with this home including sub dividing of extra big lot (180' x 238'), or keep it just the way it is and enjoy the abundance of mature trees and shrubs. All you have to do is "do your thing." Hopewell Boro. $64,900.

SO YOU'RE A GROUCH? That's because you've outgrown your present home and have need for this spacious seven room, 2 1/2 story with large, formal dining room, attractive LR, modern kitchen and 4 big corner BR. Two story detached garage and one acre of land in Hopewell Boro. $69,500.

OWNER HATES IT! Transferred owner hates leaving this beautiful, lovingly cared for Colonial behind but business calls. Slate entry foyer, carpeted LR, DR and Family room. A kitchen that every woman would love has double Caloric self-cleaning oven, garbage disposal, dishwasher and loads of cabinets. Four BR including MBR suite, 2 1/2 baths, 2 car attached garage. Reduced for a quick sale. Hopewell Tsp. $72,000.

What a difference a Bilco Door makes!

Here's the way to add new beauty to your home. Replace that wooden hatchway with a modern, all steel Bilco Door. It's ruggedly built, weather-tight, and so easy for everyone in the family to use! What's more, it will make your basement more secure against intrusion. And it will pay for itself many times over by saving repair and replacement costs.

If your home was built without the convenience of a direct basement entrance, ask us for Bilco's new handbook "How to Add Valuable Living Space to Your Home."

Stop in and see our display. We'll give you free literature on how to do it. Or, we can suggest a man to install it for you.

NOTICE

In compliance with a ruling of the State Supreme Court, all newspapers must ascertain that employment ads do not discriminate between sexes.

For example, titles such as "Salesman," "Nurse" and "Girl Friday," should be replaced, respectively, by "Salesperson," "Nurse (M/W)" and "General Office Work M/W". TOWN TOPICS has a copy of the Division of Civil Rights booklet, "A Guide for Employers to the New Jersey Law against Discrimination," and will provide assistance in the wording of all such ads upon request. Advertisers' cooperation is sought in meeting the requirements of the law.

WEST WINDSOR RANCH - has large living room with built-in planter by entry, raised fireplace and beamed ceiling, dining room, convenient kitchen with family dining area, handy laundry room, three bedrooms, two full baths, semi-finished basement with bar, fenced yard, garage. $62,500

WEST WINDSOR COLONIAL - Green thumb--needs your imagination to turn a nice-sized, enclosed porch into a "bower of greenery" which would make a lovely room between house and pool! Four bedroom colonial, 2 1/2 baths, living room, kitchen with adjoining family room, large laundry, ample closets, two-car garage. $65,000

PRINCETON — Handsome three-story Georgian Colonial beautifully maintained. Gracious foyer, living room, library solarium, study, dining room. The master suite has large bedroom, fireplaced study, dressing room and bath. Four additional bedrooms and four baths. Six fireplaces, game room and servants wing. $250,000

ROCKY HILL - White picket fence and handsome old trees surround this appealing old house. Entrance hall, living room, large dining room, modern kitchen and full bath. On the second floor are four bedrooms and bath. The third floor is a huge room. Down the garden path in the backyard is a fenced private pool. $78,500

MONTGOMERY TOWNSHIP - Pre-Revolutionary Farm House, ten minutes from Princeton in Montgomery's Bridgepoint National Historic District. Fifteen acres surrounded by hundreds of acres of open land. Fenced pastures, horse stalls. Rambling tree-shaded five-bedroom house with Sylvan swimming pool. Numerous outbuildings including 3000 square foot heated work shop suitable for family-run business now used as a furniture restoration shop. Serene, private, hilltop setting with brook, rolling fields and that feeling of wide sky. Occupancy early summer. $130,000

PRINCETON JUNCTION - A lovely community atmosphere as the train, shopping, elementary and new high school are within short walking distance, and you are only ten minutes from Princeton and the Quakerbridge and Mercer Malls. This four bedroom, two and one-half bath Colonial home is beautifully landscaped on a three-quarter acre lot with a fenced back yard. Special features include: central air conditioning, wall-to-wall carpeting, large eat-in kitchen, attractively decorated living room and dining room, panelled family room, laundry room, over-sized two-car garage, attic and generous closets and cupboards. Excellent neighborhood. $69,900

News From . . .

the Meadows

... country homes

An exclusive cluster of just twelve [12] new traditional homes on an idyllic cul-de-sac off Elm Ridge Road in Hopewell Township.

There Are Just Three Very Special
Homes Available Now

Hopewell Valley Builders, famed for many fine homes in Pretty Brook, Penn View Heights, and Elm Ridge Park, is the developer and builder of the Meadows. Quality materials, the finest craftsmen and the latest fabrication techniques are used to assure you of the ultimate in construction and value.

The distinguished architect, William Thompson, A.I.A., has created the designs for this unique grouping of country homes. You'll see splendid use of wood and brick for lasting beauty and character.

Two years in the planning, the Meadows is nearing completion and 3 new lovely homes are now ready for your inspection and visit. One home is 90 per cent completed; one is 75 per cent; the third about 50 per cent.

Come take a look at the Meadows. You can still pick your own lot [just two left] and Hopewell Valley Builders will custom build the home of your dreams. Brand new, yet traditional in design. Beautiful. Great investments for the future.

Here is One. This new home in the Meadows has a huge family room with an antique brick fireplace and high vaulted ceiling with exposed beams. There's a center hall, of course, and eat-in kitchen, lovely dining room with chair rail and oversized living room with formal fireplace and large multi-paned windows. Four bedrooms, 2½ baths complete the living area. The extra large garage will handle your two cars with room to spare. All of this on nearly an acre and a half. You'll love it. $129,000. Financing is available to qualified buyers.

In the home market? Come to the Meadows!

Just twelve traditional homes. Off Elm Ridge Road in Hopewell Township. From Henderson, of course.

BRAND NEW BOROUGH LISTING... A gracious old house in the Western Section, just a short jog from the "Y"! All the charm of old, all the modern amenities...a quick facelift and it will be sheer perfection! Fireplaces, library, bedroom suites, and much more. Please call for a date to see this enviable listing!
Asking $122,000

PRINCETON'S CLASSIC CONTEMPORARY. Here is probably the finest single-floor home currently available in Princeton! It has every extra imaginable: Large foyer and central hall. Spectacular living room with fireplace and floor-to-ceiling windows. Master bedroom suite has an enormous sitting room with fireplace, dressing room, bath, of course, and a twenty-foot bedroom. Dining room has a beautiful view of the private patio and French doors opening outward. Two extra bedrooms (very large) and two more baths add to this beauty. Naturally, there's a maid's suite, too. And convenience? Right in town on its own beautifully landscaped half acre. Black top driveway. Two-car garage. It just goes on and on! Please call us for this appointment...soon!

MOUNTAIN VIEW ROAD IS THE ADDRESS! TWO OPEN ACRES FACING THE GALLUP FARM IS THE LOCATION! The house is something else! A spacious, and gracious four bedroom colonial with many custom features... step-down paneled library with nearby wet bar, a glass enclosed porch with flagstone floor, a fully equipped dark room, a living room fireplace outlined in Federal dentils... just to name a few! It needs some work to refurbish the country kitchen and general sprucing up after twelve years of creative family living, but after all—it's a small estate complete with barn, pasture and circular drive. 80's!

A VERY SPECIAL OFFICE, RESEARCH, INDUSTRIAL OPPORTUNITY! In South Brunswick Township near the New Jersey Turnpike, we have 90-plus acre piece of property with over 3,000 square feet of frontage that is perfect for investment of any great number of business uses. The price is an exceptionally realistic $8,500 an acre. Much land nearby is $12,500 an acre and higher. If you or your company are expanding, need a new location, need more space in a great area at an extremely low price, give us a call. Let's talk about it.

THIS PHOTO DOES NOT DO JUSTICE TO JUST ABOUT THE NICEST HOUSE ON TAYLOR RD. SOUTH BRUNSWICK (with its great schools and just 5 minutes from Princeton). Starting at the bottom: it has a dry basement and is air conditioned. It has a slate foyer, living room, family room, den, formal dining room, eat-in kitchen and 1/2 bath. The second floor has four bedrooms and two baths and from the second floor you can see horses grazing in a meadow just beyond the tree line which marks the limits of a lovely lawn. It is a superb value.
Only $66,500

JUST LISTED... A MARVELLOUS ONE-STORY CONTEMPORARY... just down from the Scupper! Secluded nicely on a rather private lot, here is a convenient, comfortable house. Three bedroom, two full baths, plus a study, living room with fireplace, dining area, good sized kitchen. Recently repainted inside and out. Honest to goodness, here's good value!
Asking $62,500!

WONDERFUL WEST WINDSOR

COME SEE THIS TO BELIEVE! A very creative couple started with a basic colonial in a good neighborhood and added - at considerable expense - a Hillier-designed wing to insure their total comfort. The master bedroom suite alone includes a sitting room, two dressing rooms, full bath and office! Of course, there's also a family room with fireplace, spacious living room, formal dining room, family kitchen, three other bedrooms and two and a half baths...all dramatically decorated and in perfect condition. Outside features a superb pool completely fenced and landscaped. Air conditioning, full basement and two-car garage. mais oui! It's expensive, but for the right person, worth every penny! Please call for further details.

NOT FAR FROM THE MARKETPLACE AND BEAUTIFUL GRIGGSTOWN! New house in secluded wooded wonderland! Five bedrooms, two and a half baths, family room with full brick wall fireplace, separate paneled study, fifth bedroom and den, large living room, formal dining room, tremendous kitchen with eat-in area and powder room. A two-car attached garage, of course. Other features: central air, central vacuum, TV and phone jacks, and insulated windows! All on over 1 1/2 acres for only $87,900!

WHO SAYS YOU CAN'T AFFORD PRINCETON? Offered at under $30,000 a solid, small house that is great for a first purchase. Paint it does need and some work, too. There are two bedrooms upstairs. Living room, kitchen, dining room and bath are on the ground floor. The basement party room could be activated with minimal elbow grease. All kinds of potential.

CONSIDER

This beautifully built and maintained Colonial nestling on three private and lovely acres bordering on Stony Brook. Its spacious living room is complete with fireplace, bow window and bookshelves while the random cherry-floored dining room reflects simple dignity and charm. The kitchen, which is a gourmet cook's delight is a convenient step away from the family room and laundry area.

A large and airy master suite, two bedrooms and a second bath occupy the second level leading the way to the two warmly panelled bedrooms and bath on the third level - a perfect teenage or guest hide-away.

Air conditioning, four-zone heating and a security system are only a few of the quality features which make this a home to consider.

University's Sex-Counseling Service Aids 3,000 Clients a Year

Cheerful white walls and bright, confident yellows and reds greet the student, perhaps a fearful and uncertain student, who climbs to the third floor of Princeton University's McCosh Infirmary and the consulting rooms of SECH.

Sexuality, Education, Counseling, Health—SECH.

Last year, some 3,000 students and student spouses from Princeton University, Westminster Choir College and Princeton Theological Seminary were the grateful clients of this free service.

Timid graduate student wives, speaking no English and hoping to find out how not to have babies. A sophomore afraid he has venereal disease.

Women who want a standard annual gynecological check-up. A senior who suddenly finds that he is impotent. A junior who wonders if she is pregnant.

Now in its fifth year, SECH has treated all these and more. The director is Dr. Margaret Junker. From the start, the co-ordinator has been Sue Fox, a vigorous, soft-voiced young woman with an M.A. in sex-education from New York University and a good, sound pride in the work SECH is doing.

Men Overlooked. "Women coming here from out of town, to study at these three institutions, or married to students, had no place to go for gynecological care," she begins. "They were being referred to physicians in the community, and that was all right. But male students had no place to go at all."

From the academic year '72-73 until now, SECH has grown so that it sees 3,000 clients a year. Offices are open 16 hours a week. On the staff are five physicians from the University's health center (infirmary), a gynecologist with a private practice in town, two sex therapists — Deborah Phillips and the Rev. William Kirby — and two clinical associates — Jean Bussard and Joan Davies.

Alongside, is SIS — Sexuality Information Service — whose 27 trained student volunteers sit in the SECH rooms every night in the week from 8 to 11, answering the phone or talking over problems with drop-ins. Professionals like Ms. Fox call this "peer-to-peer" counselling.

Three Parts. Services of SECH are divided into the medical program, education and the counselling service.

Troubled students who come for counselling are often the victims of inadequate sex education from years back. SECH sees more than one youth deeply troubled because he says his penis goes limp after every ejaculation, or young women fearful of a vaginal tumor — a "tumor" that turns out, upon examination, to be the cervix.

"We also had an Asian couple, married when they were 10 or 12 years old and only just now beginning to have intercourse," Ms. Fox recalls. "Neither of them knew anything — anything! — about sex, and of course, nothing about birth control. We had to teach both of them, right from the beginning."

SECH counsellors have also talked with couples who take the phrase "sleeping together" literally. They think that's all that is needed to conceive. These are young people who have grown up in what is usually regarded as a sex-oriented society, here in the United States, bright students intelligent enough to have been admitted to the three institutions that are served by SECH.

There aren't many of these, of course, but SECH coun-

No Time!

"The level of sexual activity on the Princeton campus is very low," says Sue Fox, co-ordinator of the SECH program.

"The academic pressure is tremendous, and students just don't have the time. Also, students here are very serious about relationships and I would say there is probably very little — how I hate this word! — promiscuity. I would characterize these relationships as 'serial monogamy'. Students will have a relationship, and then break it off and begin another, but it is infrequent to have more than one at the same time."

"Drop by the library late some evening and you'll see what I mean — everybody working, not a single empty seat."

sellors are surprised that there are any at all.

Negative Behavior a Factor. The two sex therapists treat men who are impotent, or who can't maintain an erection long enough to satisfy either themselves or their partners, and women who are, in SECH's own term, "pre-organic."

"We use behavior therapy," Ms. Fox explains, "helping students to deal with the situation at hand, and to get out of the negative behavior that is causing the problem."

Treatment follows the pioneering work of Masters and Johnson with one important exception — it's free. Also, where Masters and Johnson treat both partners, SECH frequently can treat only one.

"You have a youth who can't maintain an erection, well, he certainly doesn't have a partner and isn't likely to find one. It's our work to give him the self-confidence and education to deal with his own problem and to find the solution."

"There is performance anxiety all over the country about sex," Ms. Fox says with some asperity. "Nothing is ever long enough or intense enough."

Peer Pressure. Anxiety, or at least concern, develops in quite another area. Men and women who are virgins, and feel themselves under pressure from other students to begin a sex life, come to SECH for advice.

"We ask them, 'What are your own feelings?' We give them coping mechanisms to deal with this peer pressure. Sometimes it's assertiveness training — how to say 'NO!' and be comfortable saying 'No.' People have to be comfortable in their own situation. It's what YOU are most comfortable doing."

Not infrequently, counselling at SECH is social-sexual counselling. In fact, the theme of this fall's freshman orientation at SECH — over 300 freshmen came — was "Great Expectations: Social-Sexual Relationships at Princeton."

Ms. Fox remembers a "second-semester senior" — that's the ultimate description, in terms of pressure — who had never kissed a girl and who was so tense and blocked that he could not even communicate in everyday social gatherings. She began by helping him to be at ease with a morning greeting to a professor, or "Hi, nice day, isn't it?" to a couple of friends on campus.

Counselling, in this case, extended into the summer for an overall period of more than six months. Ms. Fox is now afraid that the west coast institution where he's now doing graduate work, hasn't the facilities to keep him going, and to help him along as SECH did.

News Of The THEATRES

LIGHTS! CURTAIN!
New Season at McCarter. When the house lights dim this Thursday night in McCarter, the curtain will rise on Michael Kahn's new production of "A Streetcar Named Desire," the Tennessee Williams' drama that has become an American classic.

It will be opening night for McCarter's '76-'77 repertory of plays, and this season premiere production of "Streetcar" will play three weeks, ending Sunday, October 24.

Shirley Knight will star as Blancha Du Bois, who comes to New Orleans to visit her sister Stella and Stella's husband Stanley Kowalski.

After "Streetcar"'s Broadway opening in 1948, the New York Times critic - it was Howard Barnes at the time - described the play as "a sombre and sometimes shocking account of gradual degradation, cruelty, kindness and sheer living." He found the play "almost explosively theatrical at time, crowded with the understanding, tenderness and humor of an artist achieving maturity."

Ms. Knight has just won a Tony Award for her performance on Broadway in "Kennedy's Children." She has had major roles in some 20 films, including "The Dark at the Top of the Stairs," "Sweet Bird of Youth" and "The Group."

Glenn Close will play the part of Stella, the sister, and Kenneth Walsh will be Stanley. George Dzundza has been cast as Blanche's confused suitor, Harold.

In the supporting cast are Sarallen, Powers Boothe, Mitchell Edmonds, Mary Hayden, Gloria Frizarri, Tom McDermott, Eric Roberts and Fiddle Viracola.

Michael Yeagen and Lawrence King have done the sets, Jane Greenwood the costumes and John McLain the lighting.

KIDS!

"Specially for You. The Paper Bag Players, Peter and the Wolf, some marionettes and the young dancers in the Alvin Ailey company will entertain Princeton's kids this

2 p.m. - except for the two dance events, which will be done only once, at the 2 p.m. hour.

Playtime will start Saturday, November 6, when the Vagabond Marionettes come back with "Rumpelstiltskin," the Grimm story of the dwarf who could spin straw into gold. "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," the famous full-length Walt Disney movie, will be shown in December, and the Disney studios will be represented in March by "Peter Pan."

The Bag Players, who have been to McCarter many times before, will return again with jokes, songs, stories, pantomime, dance, poetry - and paper bags. Their date is in January.

The Alvin Ailey Repertory Workshop - the junior company of the Ailey Dance Theatre, will make its first Princeton appearance in February. The company of 14 young dancers perform many of the same works as the parent company.

"Peter and the Wolf," with the familiar Prokofiev music, will be the featured work in a program of dance by the Princeton Ballet Society. This April performance will include excerpts from "Coppelia" and "Circus."

Series subscriptions are now available.

17, has been postponed to Friday, November 19. Time and place are still the same: 8 p.m. in Dillon Gym.

All tickets will be honored on the new date, and singles still remain at the McCarter box-office.

The Doobie Brothers will make their only New Jersey appearance on Saturday, November 6 with an 8 p.m. performance in Jadwin Gym.

Blues stylist Ry Cooder will appear in Alexander Hall on Saturday, October 30 with his guest, Loudon Wainwright III, the singer-songwriter.

Box-office sale for both these concerts will begin this Saturday at McCarter.

"NASHVILLE"

At McCarter. A single, 8 p.m. showing of Robert Altman's 162-minute film, "Nashville" will open the "Movies-at-McCarter" series next Tuesday and Wednesday.

In this 1975 film, all 24 principal characters are involved in the country-and-western music business or politics or both, and Altman spins the audience from one to another, using multi-track and overlapping sound and improvisation within the formal script structure.

Most of the 26 songs were written by the actors themselves and include Keith Carradine's hit, "I'm Easy."

In the cast are Lili Tomlin, Geraldine Chaplin, Karen Black, Henry Gibson, Barbara Harris, Shelly Duvall, Carradine and various unknowns.

"OLD TIMES"

Pinter, as Opener. The relationships of three people seen through the distorted perspective of memory will occupy the Murray Theatre stage when Harold Pinter's "Old Times" opens next Thursday, October 14.

It's the opening play of the season for Theatre Intime, the Princeton University group that operates out of Murray Theatre, on campus between the chapel and the art museum. The Pinter drama will play all this weekend and Friday, Saturday and Sunday of next week-end.

Allison Mankin, Class of '77, will be the director. She handled Intime's "The Golden Fleece" last season. Eric Zwemer, an Intime veteran, will be joined by Lisa Carnochan and Adrienne Parks in the three-member cast. Ms. Carnochan was in Triangle last spring, and played in Intime's "How He Lied to Her Husband." Ms. Parks was in "Measure for Measure" on the Intime stage.

Tickets and reservations are available at the box-office and by calling 452-8181. The box-office is open from 1 p.m. to 8 p.m. Mondays through Saturdays.

LENNY BRUCE

On Film. The mimicry and bite of Lenny Bruce as he talks about sex, race, patriotism, Hollywood and his own obscenity trial, are on film in John Magnuson's "Lenny Bruce Performance Film," to be shown in Murray Theatre this Friday at 8, 10 and 12 p.m.

It's the next in Theatre Intime's film series of modern classics. Magnuson has recorded, unedited, a nightclub performance by Bruce.

TO HEAD ASSOCIATES

Mrs. Duncan Takes Office. The 600-member McCarter Associates has a new chairman of the board. It is Mrs. Stuart ("Petie") Duncan II, who was formally chosen Chairman of the Board at the Associates last meeting.

Mrs. Duncan succeeds Mrs. Thomas H. Paine, who has been chairman since the organization was formed in 1973.

The 600 membership figure is twice that of a year ago, it was announced at the meeting. In addition, to acquiring new members, the Associates has raised over $35,000 in contributions since it began a major campaign in June.

Associates are given ticket priorities for play subscriptions. ("The only way some people can even get seats on certain nights is by being an Associate," remarked Michalann Hobson, director of audience development for McCarter) and they also receive invitations to special events, lectures and theatre tours. In addition, they receive a 30 percent discount on drama series subscriptions.

Need a Play?

"The Hat," a play for children about magic and what happens when magic goes wrong, is available for performance by schools and community organizations during October, November and December.

Producers are Creative Theatre, Unlimited and the players are from CTU's Performance Troupe. County, state and federal arts funding sustains the Troupe.

Characters in "The Hat" include a magician who is upset when the hat made by his mother refuses to come off his head, a pair of children, an imaginary dog—and the audience.

Inquiries may be addressed to CTU at 924-3489 or Pam Hoffman, 883-3772.

Future plans for the Associates include establishment of a members' lounge, a spring London Theatre Tour and possibly a magazine.

Members of the board, besides Mrs. Duncan, are Mrs. Jules Aresty, Mrs. James E. Burke, Mrs. John Burns, Mrs. A.G. Chenicek, Mrs. Dwight M. Jaffee, Karl Light, Mrs. Lucien A. Marchand, Daniel Seltzer, Mrs. George Vaughn, Reid White and Thomas H. Wright, all of Princeton, and Ellen Kenny of Skillman, Samuel Kind of Yardley and Mrs. Steven Zader of Kingston.

MUSIC In Princeton

Jones, Westminster Choir College; James Litton, choirmaster of Trinity Church; and Professor Walter Nollner, conductor of the Princeton University Glee Club and Chapel Choir.

SEASON STARTS SUNDAY
For Musical Amateurs. The Princeton Society of Musical Amateurs will open its 41st season on Sunday at 4 a week earlier than announced in mailings, with a meeting at the Unitarian Church, Cherry Hill Road off Route 206.

Professor Merrill Knapp of the University Music Department will conduct a reading of the Beethoven Mass in C, with chorus, full orchestra and soloists, Mary Kemp, soprano; Cynthia Lake, alto; Randy Thompson, tenor; and Stephen Owen, bass. A selection from the Brahms Requiem will also be sung, in memory of Katherine M. Bryan, whose efforts over so many years were responsible for the origination and development of the Amateurs.

This Society is a unique Princeton organization. Singers and orchestral players from as far away as Philadelphia and northern New Jersey, but mainly from the Princeton area, gather together on one Sunday afternoon a month from October through April, to read through for their own pleasure one or more great works in the choral literature. These meetings are in no sense performances; they are informal readings in which any musically interested person may participate.

There are no preliminary rehearsals, except for the conductor and soloists, and the music is generally sung in its entirety. Participants range from those with modest sight-reading ability to singers and instrumentalists of professional caliber. All parts of the community are represented — townspeople, undergraduates, professors, commuters, high school students, and housewives — in this common and joyful enterprise of making music together.

The chorus ranges in size from 75 to 150 on any given Sunday, and the orchestra, from 20 to 35 in number. No auditions are required to sing in the chorus. Anyone interested in singing solo parts, unless known to one of the conductors, should get in touch with Mrs. Michael Ramus at 924-4266. Instrumentalists are asked to contact Rogers Woolston at 921-2478 for information about playing in the orchestra.

In addition to Professor Knapp, the conductors for the 1976-1977 season will include David Agler, choirmaster of All Saints' Church; Igor Chichagov, director and conductor of the Princeton Opera Association; Joseph Flummerfelt, director of choral activities at Westminster Choir College; Robert

Other programs planned for the year are: November 14, Brahms "Liebeslieder Waltzes"; December 12, Bach "Christmas Oratorio"; January 16, Gilbert & Sullivan "The Gondoliers"; February 6, Haydn "The Seasons"; March 6, Schubert "Mass in G"; and April 3, Vaughn-Williams "Dona Nobis Pacem."

The Musical Amateurs have regular membership dues or a single-admission charge at the door, to defray the cost of the hall, the music, and refreshments served at intermission time. Anyone wishing to attend may do so by checking with Mrs. Ramus by telephone. There is no admission fee for students, or for those who come only to listen.

SOPRANO IN CONCERT

Friday Evening. Soprano Ann Sease-Monoyios will give a concert on Friday at 8:30 in Woolworth Center on the Princeton University campus. She will be accompanied by pianist Susan Mandel.

Ms. Monoyios will present a program of Goethe texts set by Wolf, Schubert and Schumann, as well as Debussy's "Ariettes Oubliées" and works by Honegger, Edward T. Cone and Robert Pollock. In the latter piece Ms. Monoyios will be accompanied by James Winn, flutist.

Ann Sease-Monoyios received her M.A. in musicology from Princeton in 1974, and while a student here gave numerous performances. She was a soloist with the Glee Club and was a founding member of Musica Alta. Now living in New York, Ms. Monoyios is studying opera with Leyna Gabriele at the Masterpiece Laboratory Workshop in Brooklyn and is guest artist with a number of groups in New York, including Concert Royal, a group for the performance of baroque music on original instruments. Ms. Monoyios appeared in Princeton with the Concert Royal last year.

Sponsored by the Friends of Music, the concert is free to the public.

Community Agencies Seek Volunteer Help

Short-term jobs that have to be done right-away for community agencies in the Princeton area -- maybe you're the volunteer who can help out.

- Are you skilled enough in the law to read a law text out loud with understanding?
- Are you a registered nurse or licensed practical nurse who would be able to work in a bloodmobile or in a screening program?
- Can you drive? (Vehicle will be provided.)
- Could you direct a choir of teen-age boys and girls?
- Could you be drama coach for teen-age boys and girls?
- Can you type well enough to help in the preparation of a manuscript?

The Council of Community Services will direct you to the agency that needs help if you will call 924-5865 between 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. Needs are immediate, all jobs are short-term.

Music in Princeton

will give a concert on Saturday at 8:30 in Woolworth Center on the Princeton University campus.

Ms. Williams' program will be Beethoven: 32 Variations in C Minor; Bach: Partita No. 4 in D major; Schoenberg: Five Piano Pieces, Op. 23; Ravel: Jeux d'eau; Chopin: Ballade in F minor, Op. 52.

A native of Atlanta, Miss Williams graduated from Duke University with distinction and received her master of music degree from the Manhattan School of Music. She has done post-graduate study at Georgia State University and with William Masselos, noted New York pianist.

Ms. Williams has given a number of performances for music and civic organizations in Georgia. She was guest artist of high school choir concerts on tours throughout Southeastern States and Europe and Russia. She was also a member of the Duke University Orchestra. Ms. Williams is currently teaching piano in Princeton.

The concert, sponsored by the Friends of Music, is free to the public.

Burnt Offerings. Can a rambling old mansion be blamed for the deterioration of a family?

That seems to be the question of this adequate horror film which has a house playing the sinister heavy. "Burnt Offerings," based on the book by Robert Marasco, is worth seeing more for the acting than the Gothic plot.

When Oliver Reed, Karen Black and Lee Montgomery (husband, wife and son) accompanied by an aunt (Bette Davis) rent a large estate for the summer for $900, things begin to happen. They obtained the low rent from Burgess Meredith and Eileen Heckert, a brother and sister who let the house, after agreeing to take care of the pair's aged mother.

Black soon begins to spend more time caring for the house and neglecting her husband's ardor; Reed, disturbed by a childhood nightmare, suddenly drowns his son. Davis becomes tired and disoriented in contrast to her earlier animation.

Clearly, there is some nefarious power at work but who -- or what -- is responsible?

WHERE PEOPLE MAKE THE DIFFERENCE

In the old days, the man who saved money was called a miser ...today he's wiser!

Remember Mr. Scrooge; his thrifty ways made him very independent -- but not very popular.

Now-a-days, economizing for the purpose of being independent is one of the soundest indications of character and good judgment. It is what we save rather than what we earn that insures a successful future.

At Princeton Savings, we'll help you find your way to save. We won't make you rich overnight, but with a variety of savings plans to choose from, we can help to make you secure, comfortable and content.

Come into Princeton Savings, start on your way becoming totally independent. We'll be glad to help.

News Of Clubs and Organizations

The YWCA Newcomers Club will hear a historical presentation at its meeting Thursday, October 14, at 12:30 at the YM-YWCA, Avalon Place. Using photographs and other visual aids, Mrs. Helen Westcott and Mrs. Jeanne Silvester of the Historical Society of Princeton will discuss the area's architectural points of interest, historical sites and available tours. Mrs. Carolyn Wilson of the Professional Roster, a volunteer-run job information clearing-house, will talk about her organizations' activities.

The Newcomers Club invites all women who have lived in the area served by the YWCA for two years or less. A nursery is provided for children ages 1 through 5. Among the activities planned by the club's interest groups for the next month are a demonstration on making macrame plant hangers, a discussion on the ins and outs of needlepoint, a talk on trends in home furnishings by a local department store designer, a trip to a crafts firm, a tour of Morven and an Octoberfest.

For further information, call Jean Chido, 655-1061, or Donna Wepplo, 921-6208. Meetings are held the second Thursday of each month.

La Leche League will hold the final meeting of its current series, "Nutrition for Baby, Mother, and Family; Weaning", on Monday at 8. All interested persons, including husbands and babies, are welcome. The meeting will be held by Carolyn Treadway and held in her West Windsor home. Call 799-2849 for directions.

The Lawrence Township Senior Citizen Club 2 will meet Tuesday at the American Legion Hall, 100 Berwyn Place. There will be election of officers, and final plans for the trip to Peddler's Village and the Christmas Party will be discussed.

Calcium is unevenly furnished in foods, and calcium absorption from the digestive tract is poor compared with absorption of other nutrients. The best single source of calcium comes, of course, from milk products. The second best source is green, leafy vegetables, but depending upon this source alone is not advisable because of the relatively small amounts of calcium contained in these vegetables compared with the large amounts available in milk.

HANDY HINT:

To prevent knocking in pipes, hand valves on single pipe systems should be either completely open or completely closed.

Princeton Chapter of Deborah Heart and Lung Association will meet Tuesday at 7:45 in the First National Bank of Central New Jersey, Washington Avenue, Rocky Hill. Congresswoman Millicent Fenwick will share her experiences in having a pacemaker installed after collapsing on the floor of the House of Representatives a year and a half ago. The public is invited and refreshments will follow the talk.

Anyone interested in becoming a member of Deborah may contact Lenore Gordon, membership chairman, 921-8863.

The Ladies Auxillary of the Princeton Lions Club will meet Monday at 6:30 at the Nassau Inn. The guest speaker will be Mrs. Bernice Schwartz, Princeton author and photographer, who will give a lecture and slide presentation on "Patterns of Life." A business meeting will follow.

The Woman's Club will meet Thursday, October 21, at 1:15 at the clubhouse. Mrs. Louise Collins of Chatham will present book reviews in a talk entitled "A Book in Hand." Currently studying at the Barnes Foundation in Merion, Pa., Mrs. Collins' experience includes radio, television and theatre as a performer and producer as well as public relations work in politics and trade associations.

Hostesses for the day include Mrs. Martin J. Reef, chairman; Mrs. Dudley W. Clark Jr., decorations chairman; and Mesdames Allen Chytrowski, Anthony Altieri, George F. Bush, John L. Cullen, James Ehler, Earl M. Hainley, James L. Green, Melvin E. Karns, Michael Lanzara, David Madison, John L. McKee, Martin S. McVay, and Lady Muriel Bailey.

The Princeton Area Alumni Club of Alpha Chi Omega Sorority will celebrate its Founder's Day on Saturday at the Nassau Club. Cocktails will be served at 12:30 followed by a luncheon program.

All Alpha Chi Omega sorority members in the area are invited to attend. For reservations and information, call Diane Taylor, 799-3827.

The West Windsor Garden Club will meet Monday at 7:45 in the Dutch Neck School to hear a talk by Evelyn of the Hightstown florist shop, "Flowers by Evelyn," talk on dry flowers. Members may bring dry flowers and learn how to make professional arrangements. Flowers that grow wild along the roads and in the fields will be featured.

Assemblyman Clifford Snedeker will be the guest speaker at the joint meeting of the Princeton and Hightstown Business and Professional Women's Clubs Tuesday evening at Prospect on the University campus. The social hour will start at 6 followed by dinner at 7.

The program is under the aegis of Mrs. Roy Geddes of Princeton and Mrs. Walter Harvey of Hightstown, each the legislative chairman of her respective club. The recently-enacted state income tax will be the focus, and there will be question and answer period following Mr. Snedeker's address. Non-members are welcome.

For further information and reservations call 924-5635.

"Antiques with Flowers" will be the title of the program to be presented to the Dogwood Garden Club by Mrs. Raymond Wismer of Cranford, on Thursday, October 14, at the home of Mrs. Harold B. Law. Mrs. Wismer will also demonstrate making arrangements in antique containers.

Lunch will be at noon and the program will begin at 1. Mrs. Gerald Lockyer will assist Mrs. Law.

"Our Princeton Past" is the theme of the next meeting of the Bet-Am Drop-In Lounge group of the Jewish Center, on Monday, at 1.

William Roufberg will show slides of early Princeton, Miss Alice Braveman will tell of the beginnings of the Jewish Center, and Mrs. Barbara Vilkomerson will speak about growing up here. Persons attending the get-together are invited to bring snapshots or other memorabilia relating to the years 1914 through 1955 in Princeton and to share their reminiscences of these times.

Refreshments will be served before the start of the program.

The October meeting of the Montgomery Woman's Club will be held Thursday at 8:15 in the Rocky Hill branch of the First National Bank of Central Jersey. Mrs. Barbara Manka will speak on "How the Planets Affect Our Lives." Mrs. Manka plans to read the astrological charts and interpret the signs of candidates President Ford and Governor Carter, but has said she will not predict the outcome of the election.

Mrs. James Wiltshire is chairman of hostesses for the evening. Guests are welcome.

The first of six public lectures by The Princeton Society of the Archaeological Institute of America will be given next Wednesday, October 13, at 8:30 p.m. at the Institute for Advanced Study.

Dr. Ann Birchall, assistant keeper of the Department of Greek and Roman Antiquities at the British Museum, will discuss "Lord Hamilton's Vases and the Salvage of the H.M.S. 'Colossus'."

Following the lecture, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C.W. Roberts will be hosts at a reception for members of the Society and their guests. Those who would like to join the Society and attend the reception are asked to call Christoff Clairmont, 924-7914, or JoAnn Connell, 921-2811, both during the evening hours, for additional information.

Lord Hamilton, husband of Lord Nelson's mistress, Emma, assembled an outstanding collection of Greek vases, one group of which became the nucleus of the British Museum collection. Another part of Lord Nelson's collection went down in the shipwreck of the "Colossus" in 1798.

Early in 1975, the wreck site was discovered, and excavations are continuing under the direction of Dr. Birchall. She reports that fragments are "beautifully preserved" after 200 years under water.

This Year, Princeton Borough Voters Have Another Choice . . .

LEONA MEDVIN Independent for Princeton Borough Council

Election Day, Nov. 2, 1976

A MESSAGE FROM LEONA MEDVIN

Dear Princeton Voter:

I am seeking the unexpired term on Borough Council left vacant by the death of my husband, Democratic Councilman Murray Medvin.

I run as an independent, although I remain firmly committed to the principles of the Democratic party. The "experts" have told me that independent candidates don't fare well with Princeton voters. But this year may be different.

I think many of you share my concern over the divisiveness and small-minded partisanship displayed recently by incumbent members of Borough Council. People should not be pitted against one another because they live in different sections of town. University-community relations should be strengthened, not deliberately strained, by local leaders. Differences between Borough and Township residents must be minimized, not exploited for narrow political purposes.

I am running because I believe it will take hard work and intelligence—not just black arm bands and proclamations—to get more moderate-income housing in Princeton, to develop a balanced transportation program, to oversee the planning and construction of a multi-million dollar sewer system, and to keep taxes from skyrocketing.

The needs of the elderly, the young, and the disadvantaged of Princeton remain unmet, not because we don't care, but because we lack leadership that will settle down and organize real solutions to these problems.

This year, you really do have another choice. I am eager to serve you, but I need your support. And regardless of the outcome, let me tell you how deeply I appreciate the encouragement so many of you have given me to take up this challenge.

Sincerely,

Leona Medvin

ART In Princeton

AMERICAN ART ON VIEW
At Art Museum. An exhibition of 130 American drawings is on display at the Princeton University Art Museum through November 28.

It was compiled from the museum's collection of 18th and 19th century American drawings (a few 20th century drawings are also included). The collection is particularly strong in the works of Thomas Cole, John La Farge, Homer Dodge Martin, and Charles Herbert Moore. Drawings by them represent one-third of the selection. Also among the 52 artists included are Mary Cassatt, Jasper Cropsey, Thomas Eakins, William Morris Hunt, Frederick MacMonnies, William Page and Thomas Sully.

Among the highlights are two watercolors by Child Hassam, "View in Montmartre," which was made during the artist's early years in Paris, and "Newfields, New Hampshire," which depicts a favorite rural view of Hassam's, one that he repeated several times in both watercolor and oil. Benjamin West's red chalk rendering of the figure of "Hope" is an elegant and refined example of that artist's work.

Among the 18 drawings by John La Farge in the exhibition are studies for the famous murals in Trinity Church, Boston - the first major mural project in this country -- and handsome watercolors like "Halt of the Wise Men" and "South Sea Dance, Samoa." Two powerful charcoal drawings ("Women on a Rocky Shore" and "After the Storm") are representative of studies that Winslow Homer made of peasants at the seaside town of Tynemouth, England, during a sojourn there in 1881 and 1882.

The selections were made by Mrs. Barbara T. Ross, the museum's custodian of prints and drawings and author of the museum's fully annotated and illustrated catalogue, distributed by Princeton University Press.

Three-quarters of the drawings represented were given to The Art Museum by Frank Jewett Mather, Jr. (1886-1953), professor in Princeton's Department of Art and Archaeology and director of The Art Museum from 1922 to 1946. His enthusiasm as a collector and his eye for quality in individual drawings have made the museum's collection of American drawings one of the most important in the country. The exhibition is supported by a grant from the National Endowment for the Arts in Washington, D.C., a federal agency.

campus feel "comfortable," she says, in talking with her.

Matter of Choice. The medical program at SECH draws about 70 people each week, 85 percent of them women. Most of the women come to SECH asking for birth control information.

"We don't tell the woman what kind of contraceptive to use," Ms. Fox says. "We discuss the efficacy of the pill, the IUD, the diaphragm and let the woman make her own choice. That choice should reflect her own life-style, her own aesthetic. The best method in the world could be the worst, for that particular woman."

Increasingly, SECH finds, young women are turning away from the pill and the IUD (intra-uterine device) and back to the diaphragm.

"Women may fear the pill or the IUD after unfavorable publicity," Ms. Fox has found, "but beyond that, women today want control of their own bodies. It's part of the women's movement, as a whole. It's easier to give in to intercourse, for example, if you're on the pill."

"And in a college population, girls' lives are so harried! There just isn't time for intercourse. Suppose your boy-friend goes to another college, you see him only at Christmas vacation. Why go on the pill, with possible side-effects like bleeding or cramps, just for those infrequent times? A diaphragm makes much more sense."

A Body Workshop. Finding that women today have more interest in their bodies -- and may be very ignorant about them -- Ms. Fox has a "body workshop" on campus. She explains anatomy through drawings, and answers students' questions.

Male students check into the SECH medical program if they are worried about venereal disease. The percentage of infected students on these three campuses is very low, Ms Fox reports.

And there are "problem pregnancies."

"Usually, it's because the woman didn't use birth control, not failure of the contraceptive method or lack of education," Ms. Fox smiles, and she adds,

"Abortion is not something we take lightly. It is not a good solution for everybody, and we ask the woman to think it through. We ask her to consider adoption, placing the child in a foster home until she can care for it, marriage to the father. Again, it's what is comfortable for that student."

SET TO SWAP: Christie Fulmer and Julie Baum hold samples of the hundreds of items of second-hand athletic equipment for sale at bargain prices on Saturday from 10-4 at the Princeton Day School Rink. Proceeds will go to the scholarship-endowment fund of the school.

Fifteen Abortions. Last year, there were 16 undergraduate pregnancies, 15 of which were aborted. Ms. Fox points out that this is one percent of the female undergraduate population.

"That figure of 17 represents a drop of 50 percent in pregnancies from the year before," she says, a decline which she believes is traceable to SECH.

For example, the "Issues in Human Sexuality" evenings that drew up to 200 students last year -- "even during mid-terms" -- and the 77 students, during the six-month period from November to April, who turned to the SIS peer counsellors with questions about infertility, the morning-after pill, masturbation, bisexuality, relationship problems, sterilization and -- about half were these -- birth control.

Ms. Fox is upbeat about the success of SECH.

"I'd say that in treatment of male dysfunction we have about 100 percent success -- these students are really motivated, you know. With married students well, 'success' sometimes means that a marriage is finished and should break up, but we've seen marriages come back together again. You can tell by 'body language' -- couples are distant, apart, when they come in. But often, after counselling, we see them go out with their arms around each other."

SPORTS SWAP PLANNED

At Day School Rink. A Princeton Day School Sports Swap will be held on Saturday from 10-4 in the school rink. New in this area, the Swap is designed to provide a clearing house for used athletic equipment of all kinds, donated or consigned.

The equipment may be purchased at bargain prices and will provide the Princeton community with an opportunity to obtain sports equipment of all kinds, in good working condition, at far less than it would cost if newly purchased. Additional donations for the Swap may be brought to the Colross garage, The Great Road between 8 and noon Thursday and Friday.

The Swap is co-chaired by Mrs. Albert Barclay and Mrs. George Gallup III. Proceeds will benefit the PDS Scholarship-Endowment Fund.

"YES" HOLDS CLASS

In Party-Service. How to serve a dinner party or a cocktail party, how to set a table, prepare simple canapes and, probably the most important thing of all--how to clean up.

That's the curriculum for a new Party-helper Training Course set up by the Youth Employment Service (YES) to expand the employment opportunities for young people in the Princeton area. The course does not include bartending.

Classes will be held each Wednesday afternoon in October for one hour starting at 3:30 at the 120 John Street offices of YES. Both boys and girls are eligible, and there is no charge for the course.

Young people who want to sign up--and there is a limit of 14--should call YES any weekday afternoon between 2:30 and 5, or stop by the office at 120 John Street (Dorothea House).

Princeton hostesses who want to hire the newly-trained helpers are cordially invited to call YES at the same number.

Jill Vincent, a Princeton University hostess, will conduct the course. Jean Pendergrass, a YES volunteer, is the sponsor.

VOLUNTEERS SOUGHT

By New Scout Chairman. Mrs. Joseph Crawley of 8 Balcort Drive, has been elected Association Chairman of Princeton Girl Scouts after serving as leader and delegate for several years.

Troops are now being organized at all Princeton public schools, and volunteers are needed to lead Brownies and Juniors. Call Mrs. Crawley at 924-2894 for further information.

Buckner on the reservation of the U.S. Military Academy, West Point, N.Y. He is a third classman (sophomore) at the Military Academy. Cadet Seadler is a 1975 graduate of Montgomery High School.

Virginia Euell of Trenton, principal of the Middle School from 1972-75, has been appointed to the Board of Trustees of Trenton State College for a term ending in 1980. A science teacher here for eight years before being named assistant principal and three years later, principal, she is currently serving as a co-leader of a seminar in education at Princeton University.

The unveiling and presentation of a major work of art by Elleen Shabender of 107 Autumn Hill Road to the Mercer Medical Center in Trenton will be held Wednesday, October 13. The work was commissioned by the Mercer County Cultural and Heritage Division and Commission.

Dr. Robert F. Morrissey, 246 Varsity Avenue, Penns Neck, has been named national technical director of microbiological laboratories for the Johnson & Johnson Domestic Operating Company.

In this new position, Dr. Morrissey will have responsibility for the microbiological assurance laboratories at Johnson & Johnson facilities in North Brunswick, Chicago, Ill., and Sherman, Texas. He continues as director of the Microbiological Technical Service Group.

A graduate of Santa Fe University, Dr. Morrissey earned master's and doctor's degrees in microbiology at the University of Connecticut. He joined Johnson & Johnson in 1974 as chief microbiologist at the Eastern Surgical Dressings Plant.

Dr. Sykuro Manabe of 24 Pine Knoll Drive, Lawrenceville, a research meteorologist at the Geophysical Fluid Dynamics Laboratory on Route 1 has received the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's Scientific Research and Achievement Award for his international leadership in the field of weather circulation and climatic modeling and simulation.

In the past 16 years, Dr. Manabe has been responsible for many important contributions leading to greater understanding of the energetics of the tropics and the atmosphere as well as the role of the hydrologic cycle and of continental orography (physical geography dealing with mountains). His research is considered fundamental to the ability to account for the climatic impact of aircraft activity, energy utilization alternatives, and other human sources of pollution.

Born in Japan, Dr. Manabe received his Bachelor's, Master's and Doctor of Science Degrees from Tokyo University. He was appointed a research meteorologist with the Geophysical Fluid Dynamics Laboratory in 1958.

MARSH'S EXPANDS COSMETIC LINES: Teddi Urbani, a cosmetician at Marsh and Company, stands before the extensive Elizabeth Arden line of beauty products she has been trained to represent.

COSMETICS EXPANDED
At Marsh's New Store. When Marsh and Company moved last Spring into a considerably larger store at 168 Nassau Street, one of the new features was an expanded cosmetic department.

The most exciting addition is the Lancome line which Sue Davies, who has been a cosmetician at Marsh's for the past six years, describes as "tremendously fabulous. It is a simple, uncomplicated treatment line with exquisite makeup colors. People who travel are keen on it, and there has been a remarkable reaction to the fact that we have it."

Marsh has also added a new cosmetician, Teddi Urbani, a trained and very knowledgeable Elizabeth Arden representative who had previously worked for Nevius Voorhees. She told us that while Arden is an extensive treatment and cosmetic line that has been around for well over 30 years, recently they have developed a new line of treatments for the young, active woman who is unable to set aside time to properly care for her skin.

Called Skin Dynamics, this system consists of two products (with no perfume added) to be used daily for basic cleansing and moisturizing and then two additional fast-acting products to be used once or twice a week for the necessary extra skin care.

Cosmetics for the young have been developed too, and these come in bright colors. Most interesting is the Creative Color pencil that comes in 38 colors. It is soft-textured and can be used for most any job-eyeshadow, brow makeup, cheek color, lips or for highlights, $3.

Teddi feels she can always tell an Arden user from a woman's skin, and the long-time creams that have made this possible are still a vital part of this line. There is the original orange skin cream; Velva Moisture Film of which Teddi reports she orders two dozen each month, $12 for eight ounces; and Eight Hour cream which has an incredible healing quality, perfect for small cuts or chapped lips, $6 for four ounces.

From Revson...Another important line here is Revson's Ultima II, which although originally a sophisticated line of treatments and makeup has recently introduced Skim Milk cleansers and lotions for the young skin.

No matter what your age or skin problems, there is a treatment available. For the very young there is the Love line of cosmetics; for sensitive skin there are the Almay hypo-allergenic products; and Lubriderm or Aquacare are the answers to very dry skin.

These cosmetic houses also make perfumes, which are here in addition to many old favorites. Newest to Princeton are the Lancome fragrances of Fidji and Magie, which are sophisticated and glamorous. As an introduction to these, Marsh has a bonus Guy Laroche scarf (beige and white or bright yellow and blue) for $3.75 with any purchase, and the prices start at $5.

Other fragrances you'll find here in everything from colognes and perfumes to powders and body lotions are Arden's Blue Carnation; Houbigant's Chantilly and Quelque Fleurs; Revlon's Charlie; Lanvin's Arpege and My Sin; Chanel's numbers 5, 19 and 22; Nina Ricci's L'Air de Temps, Caprice or Farouche; plus several more, including men's products.

Probably the most basic skin care begins with a bath, and we saw soaps here from around the world. Particularly interesting are the cream or glycerine ones from Switzerland that come in marvelous fragrances such as Mountain Raspberry, Cucumber, Wheat Germ or pure Buttermilk to name just a few, three bars for $4.50 and the packaging couldn't be prettier.

Then to make your skin feel smooth, there is nature's answer to beauty—the Loofah pad made from a Korean vegetable or a natural Aloe back strap that massages your body, $1.75 to $11.

Your hair is also important, and so Marsh carries the Pantene products for both men and women. One of the newest items is a special lotion for hair damaged by blow dryers. Called the heat solution, it is currently packaged with a styling brush and specially priced at $6.

For that daily brushing of 100 strokes you can choose a famous Kent Hairbrush or one by Mason Pearson. These are also pure bristle, but they are particularly good for thick young hair as the bristles have a resilient backing that enables them to go right to the scalp and bring the oil along each strand of hair, from $10.

One of the nicest aspects of a pharmacy is the surprising extras found there and Marsh's is no exception. There are Bullova caravelle watches, the Shower massage by Water Pik, Bausch and Lomb's Ray Ban sunglasses which filter the proper amount of light, and English jams and jellies.

These jams come in a range of unusual flavors, such as greengage plum, rose petal jelly, red currant with port that would be delicious with crepes, or an apple and mint herbal jelly to be served with meats, $2.25 to $3.75.

Marsh and Company located at 168 Nassau Street, is open Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. until 9 p.m., Saturdays from 8:30 until 6, and Sunday from 9 until 3.

2ND GALLERY OPENED

By Princeton Gallery of Fine Art. "First of all let me say this gallery exists because of the one in Princeton, and the success and following that Barry and Arline Snyder have established," said Pamela Sherin, gallery director of Yardley's new Princeton Gallery of Fine Art.

Unlike the original gallery which features many large art works, this new one concentrates on works on paper. This includes prints, graphics, watercolors and pastels—small intimate works that can easily be overpowered when exhibited beside a large oil.

Mrs. Snyder feels these works should be appreciated for themselves, and this is a major reason for the new gallery. The setting is bright and uncluttered with only a few antiques and hand-crafted Early American reproductions furnishing the room—just the subtle type of background these more delicate works require.

The Princeton Gallery's

stable of artists extends to this new gallery as many of them work with several techniques. For instance nationally known Gregorio Prestopino who loves nature, nudes and vibrant colors has watercolors, drawings and prints in addition to his oils. His newest print, called Boulder Brook (a limited edition of 85), is here and this is the first gallery to exhibit it.

Thomas George, also nationally known and a Princeton resident, works with gouache, brush and ink drawings, and prints; while Wolf Kahn uses pastels to paint beautiful Vermont landscapes full of sensuous colors.

Reeve Schley III also paints landscapes, but his are very representational. "I think light is the most important thing in his watercolors," said Ms. Sherin. "They really have light shining through them." Currently on exhibit is one of Nantucket.

Margaret Kennard Johnson is a print maker currently in Japan learning Japanese techniques. She has also worked with intaglio, a process that creates texture in each print, many of which interestingly reflect a combination of modern and medieval feelings.

The print world is changing as new techniques are developed. For instance, Naomi Savage who has worked with photography since she was 15, now takes the negatives and engraves them on a copper plate, making her prints a reverse intaglio process. Ms. Sherin feels she is probably the only artist in the country doing this type of work at this level.

Greenbaum Works. Dortha Greenbaum needs no introduction, and Princeton Gallery of Fine Art has her works dating back to 1921. Her marvelous relationship with nature started early on as can be seen in a print of Storm Clouds which almost has an abstract quality, and in one of a Timid Owl filled with personality. Her recent prints of ferns and a sand dollar have such detail that we almost felt we were viewing a fossil.

The entire graphic expression of Reginald Neal from 1941 until the present is here, as are the detailed wood engravings of Stefan Martin whom Ms. Sherin terms as "unquestionably one of the best."

From a collector's point of view, one of the nicest things about these works is the reasonable price. Thus, they are an alternative for people who are just beginning to collect, but can't afford a major work. The investment is not large, and yet they are getting something unique as everything is original or part of a limited edition.

Prices start at $20 for a tiny fully detailed winter scene wood engraving by Stefan Martin (edition of 100) and rise to $1600 for a Prestopino watercolor. However, the entire range is well covered, thereby offering many choices.

As with their Princeton gallery, the Snyders wanted this to be a pure art gallery, similar to those in New York City. In other words, you will not find art supplies or crafts here.

It takes a long time to develop a following of artists and the gallery is proud of the ones they represent. Current plans are to continually show different works by this group and to invite new artists, particularly those with more representational works. Gallery director Pam Sherin, who was previously exhibition director at the Hunterdon Art Center said, "I think it's important that we have more work of this representational quality. When people first enter a gallery, they need to see something they can identify with."

Yardley is but a short drive from Princeton, and a charming town to visit, now with the added bonus of a professional and welcoming gallery. Located at 40 South Main Street, Princeton Gallery of Fine Art in Yardley is open Tuesday through Saturday from 11 until 5.

of Princeton University through October 31. This large group of vintage prints by the leader of the pictorialist movement in France comes to the museum from La Photographie in Paris, where the exhibition was organized from the collection of Jacques Demachy, the artist's son.

Demachy, who was active at the turn of the century, was to the photographic movement in France what Alfred Stieglitz was to it in America. Born in 1859, he spent his formative years studying music, painting, and literature.

In about 1890 he turned to photography, and by 1894 he had established himself as an international figure in the movement to gain for pictorial photography recognition as an art form. A well-educated and cultivated man, he wrote extensively on the aesthetics of photography, arguing that traditional artistic principles should be applied to photography.

Demachy found in the gum-bichromate and oil-pigment processes perfect vehicles to express his painterly approach through the manipulation of photographic techniques. Although he had little use for the straight or documentary photograph, he commanded the respect and support of leaders of the purist aesthetic, like Alfred Stieglitz and Frederick H. Evans. In 1904 Stieglitz honored Demachy by including a series of his gum-bichromate prints in "Camera Work," thereby officially recognizing him as an ally of the Photo-Secessionists.

The Art Museum is open Tuesdays through Saturdays from 10 to 4; Sundays from 1 to 5. The museum is closed Mondays and major holidays.

TALKS TO RESUME

At Art Museum. The Princeton University Art Museum talks will start again this fall on Fridays at 12:30 and 1:30 and on Sundays at 3, beginning October 15 and 17, respectively. The lectures, which are free and open to the public, are often related to current exhibitions.

"Take a Museum Break" talks on Fridays are short to enable working people to attend during their lunch hour. The first, on Friday, October 15, will be led by Peter Bunnell, director of the Art Museum, on a current exhibition, "Photographs by Robert Demacy, French, 1859-1936."

The Sunday talks last one half hour, and the Museum suggests bringing the whole family. The opening one on Sunday, October 17, will be given by Charles Scribner, instructor in the department of art and archaeology, who will speak on a picture by Daniel Seghers and Erasmus Quellinus, "A Floral Lamentation."

3-WOMAN SHOW SET

At Loft Gallery. The Loft Gallery Center of the Arts, 306 Alexander Street, will present the oil paintings of Lillian Jones and Flo A. H. Norvell and the watercolors of June Lang during the month of October.

Formerly an antique dealer in Newtown, Conn., Mrs. Jones came to Princeton six years ago. She uses restored frames for her oils on wood panels which are in the primitive mode. She creates animals large and small co-existing in sunshine, and she paints fairs and playful children, boating on Lake Carnegie and Noah's Ark.

Mrs. Norvell, a Hightstown resident, has lived in various parts of the United States designing, studying, teaching and painting. She likes to be known as a "fauve," and her oil paintings show bold color juxtaposition and strong composition. Landscapes and figurative works will be on display.

Miss Lang, who is a Pennington resident, concentrates on every-day people, sports, landscapes and seascapes in her watercolors. She has experimented in the realm of sports illustration using current popular figures in collage form.

The exhibit may be viewed Tuesday through Saturday between 9 and 5 for the entire month of October. There is free parking for all patrons.

THE LOVING EXPERIENCE

Human Sexuality #101.
An intensive weekend
course in Princeton
and in Boston.

The course uses explicit films, slides, tapes and talks to illustrate and explore human sexuality. The point is to help you learn more awareness, and to learn more about your sexuality and the sexuality of others.

We are doctors, psychiatrists, psychologists, clergy, and social workers. For several years we have been giving a version of this course to other doctors, therapists and counselors. The course has been so well received that we are opening Human Sexuality #101 to the public.

To learn more about the course, please call us or send us your name and address, and we'll send our brochure.

Tigers to Face Columbia, Knowing That Defeat Will Endanger Chances for Respectable Season

FUMBLE THAT SAVED PROBABLE SCORE: Princeton's recovery (by safetyman Dave Powers) of this Brown fumble early in third period Saturday cost Bruins chance for another touchdown when play occurred on Tiger 8. Visitors did not score again but held on to win, 13-7. (Bob Matthews Photo)

BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

Brought to you
By John Bernard

Here's an interesting football question. What father-and-son combination both won "Coach of the Year" awards at 2 different colleges the same year? The answer is Johnny Majors of Pitt, voted "Coach of the Year" for major colleges in 1970, and his father, Shirley Majors, voted small college "Coach of the Year" for his coaching at the University of the South the same season.

Here's something to watch this football season. A statistician reports that teams which pass on more than 35 percent of their plays wind up losing more often than they win. He says, for instance, in pro football where teams get about 60 running or passing plays a game, winning teams generally use the run on an average of about 40 plays, and pass on only about 20 plays. He says teams usually should use running plays about 65 percent of the time to have a better chance of winning.

When was the last time a major college football team scored 100 points in one game? Last time it happened was in November of 1968 when the University of Houston beat Tulsa, 100-6.

Having held the team that is at the moment probably third best in the Ivy League to a margin of six points, Princeton will play Saturday against an opponent it must beat if it is to salvage much of anything from the current football season. The game against Columbia on the Lions' Baker Field in New York will find the two combatants meeting pretty much on even terms. Both teams showed improvement last week in the second half of their games, the Lions rallying for two touchdowns and a 14-10 victory over Penn, and Princeton outplaying Brown by a margin of 7-0. The difference was that the Tigers had yielded 13 first-half points to the Bruins and lost their second game in three, while Columbia, at 2-1, is off to its best start since 1970.

Princeton's hope for victory against Columbia lies on the basis that it was playing a tougher team than the Lions, and that running back Bobby Isom will have recovered sufficiently from his ankle injury to be able to play. If he does, the Orange and Black might win; without him, the odds would substantially favor the opposition.

The Lions, who do not figure to move out of the league's second division, will be battling hard to stay over the .500 mark for the season. It is a real achievement on Morningside Heights -- one that Columbia has recorded only once in the past 11 years.

Graduation Hit Hard. From last year's 2-7 team, Columbia has five starters back on each

QUICK LOOK AT COLUMBIA
OFFENSE: Good balance, but can be held in check by capable defense. Quarterback Kevin Burns has promise.

DEFENSE: Questionable because of inexperience. Tigers' hope is that their own questionable attack can overmatch it.

CHIEF ASSET: Combination of home field and adrenalin flowing from Lions' best start in six years.

CHIEF PROBLEM: Inability to fill gaps left by graduation of its top players from 1975.

TYPE OF ATTACK: Multiple. T with veer.

Ivy League Forecast

Princeton over Columbia.

Tigers need Isom to do it.

Dartmouth over Yale. Big year for Green in the making.

Brown over Penn. Quakers may be headed for cellar.

Harvard over Cornell. Crimson putting it all together.

passing percentage-wise (13 for 34 for 39 percent) but engineered drives of 80 and 66 yards last week in the victory over Penn.

Bruce Stephens, a 5-9 168-lb. junior, is the fastest running back and is currently averaging better than five yards a carry. Jay Hickey, another junior and considerably bigger at 6-1, 193, also runs well for the Lions, as does Paul McCormick, with this pair also serving as Burns's chief receivers along with flanker Dave McAvoy.

Defensively, the Lions are somewhat inexperienced up front, where only one regular returns. While they have numerous lettermen available as linebackers and in the deep secondary, they have allowed an average of 25 points in their first three games, and it is on such a weakness that Princeton's hope depends.

Having finally found there is an end zone when they drove 88-yards for a fourth-quarter touchdown against Brown, Princeton may find the going somewhat easier Saturday than it did against the Bruins and Rutgers. Once in a while, there have been flashes of a promising offense, and a team that has its problems defensively may be just the cure the Tigers need.

Lockhart the Quarterback. While the statistics he has compiled to date are a bit more impressive than the results he has achieved, junior Kirby Lockhart appears to be on the way to locking up the starting quarterback assignment. In his two games so far, he has completed 16 of the 32 passes he has thrown.

Offsetting this 50 percent average is the fact that some of his eight completions in the Brown game were achieved against a prevent-defense, which the Bruins used toward the end of each half. Such tactics allow the short gain to guard against the bomb.

Princeton managed only 127 yards rushing Saturday, with only one back once running for double figures when Mike Howard picked up 14 yards. The Tigers badly need Isom back, although there is evidence that even his skill may be blunted while the young Tiger line learns to improve its blocking. The timing, too, is faulty too frequently -- half a dozen penalties for illegal motion slowed the offense Saturday, and at least once they were duped into the penalty by the stunting of the Bruin defense. In all, they were guilty of nine violations for a total setback of 52 yards -- far too much for a shaky offense that could net only 212 yards.

FIRST HALF DECISIVE

Brown's 13-0 Lead Stands Up. A touchdown it yielded in each of the first two quarters proved more of a deficit than Princeton could make up, but it was to the Tigers' credit that, when the visitors missed their second p.a.t., the opportunity for an upset remained until the game ended. Overall, the Bruins did not play well, dropping half a dozen passes that quarterback Paul Michalko put into his receivers' grasp. They also gave away an opportunity to break the game open in the third quarter when a fumbled handoff resulted in a recovery on the Princeton eight by safety Dave Powers.

The visitors got their final scoring chance some five minutes later when they tried a field goal from 32 yards out, but end Hank Howarth blocked it and the Tigers took over on their 12. From there, in a drive that somehow defied a logical breakdown when it required an astonishing 21 plays, the Tigers painstakingly went the distance for their first TD since the second quarter of the Dartmouth game last November.

Six of the plays were passes by Lockhart, who completed only two but got the Tigers from the Brown 23 to the one when he was awarded an interference call on a long aerial into the end zone intended for split end Todd Caliguire. Even then, with the ball on the one, it took Princeton three shots to make it.

Gary Larson, a sophomore, may just possibly have set a Princeton record when he got the TD on a dive the first time he carried the ball in varsity competition. No one, at least, could recall a similar feat.

The drive required two third and two fourth-down conversions, which is certainly living by the sword of Damocles. The pass that put the ball on the one was thrown from a 4th-and-9 situation, five of those yards assessed because the play that was called from the bench was slow enough getting there to result in a delay-of-game penalty.

With the game there for the taking, Princeton could not manage the upset, one that would have ended Brown's dominance of this series since 1973. The Tigers never again made it beyond their own 37, and lost their final opportunity on the second interception of the day that Lockhart threw.

VICTOR IN GOLF EVENT

Sybil Hargraves Wins. The Handicap Tournament at Springdale Golf Club was won by Sybil Hargraves, who defeated Anne Sittig, 6 and 4.

Rose Johnson won the consolation flight, defeating Marion Houghton 2 up, and Ginny Selden defeated Mary Rogers, 7 and 5, to win the first flight.

OPENINGS AVAILABLE

In Lawrence Peewee Hockey. The Lawrence Peewee Hockey League still has openings available in the 7, 8 and 9 year old beginners group. The covered Lavino rink of the Lawrenceville School has again been made available.

Eleven teams of various ages will take the ice next month. From the 150 players involved, All-Star teams are also chosen to play a schedule that includes Montclair, Livingston, Princeton and Chestnut Hill.

This year, amateur hockey in the U.S. requires that all players wear a protective face mask similar to those used in football. Additional information may be obtained by calling 896-0922 or 921-9321.

WW VS. ALLENTOWN

Both Teams Winless. Between them, West Windsor and Allentown have played five football games this fall and not won one. After its 21-0 loss to Lawrence High last week, West Windsor is 0-2, while Allentown dipped to 0-3 after its most recent 22-6 setback by Hightstown.

Allentown, which had a minus 29 yards rushing against Florence in its opener and only six in 21 plays in a 15-0 loss to Holmdel, might look like a breather but West Windsor coach Rex Walker will have none of that.

"Allentown won't be easy," he said, "They're a hard-hitting team. They hit some tough teams early." Walker added that Allentown's defense is sound, and while the offense has yet to develop, "they have a young quarterback who runs well and can throw well. He's improving every week and if he keeps it up, he can cause us fits."

Allentown, Walker commented, will be looking at West Windsor's 0-2 record and thinking this is our chance. "I think it will be close."

The Pirates home game against Lawrence High Saturday was their first ever in the new stadium, and despite the poor weather, Walker estimated 1500 fans watched the game. The crowd, he said, was the biggest West Windsor had ever played before.

Pirate halfback Ron Dilatush rushed for 105 yards in 16 carries and added 46 more on two pass receptions. The 151 total is a school record. That and a 7-for-10 passing effort by quarterback Dave Watson that gained 68 yards were about all the Pirates could point to.

Until the closing minute of the first half, when Ralph Ditmars passed 44 yards to Jack Brunner for six points, Walker reported, "both schools had trouble putting successive first downs together. They weren't really over-powering us."

Then after the Cardinals scored again in the third period, West Windsor mounted a long drive that carried to a first down on the four-yard line. But when the Pirates lost the ball on a fumble, "that broke our backs," said Walker. "The kids were down."

Lawrence used most of the final period driving 96 yards for its final score. It was the victor's first game of the season.

PHS Eleven Improves Despite Loss to Ewing; Hun Rivalry to Be Renewed Saturday at 11

THIS PHS PASS...WAS DROPPED: PHS end Ron Reimann, shown here just missing a Scott Thompson pass in the first period against Ewing, later caught a 17-yard aerial from Todd Blackledge on the final play of the game to prevent a second Little Tiger shutout in a row. Ewing won, 13-6.

By all rights, their roles should have been reversed.

Ewing with a squad twice the size of Princeton High and with one of its most promising teams in years was playing with eight days rest. The Little Tigers, inexperienced and thin, were playing after five days rest.

But in the middle of the final period, with the visiting Blue Devils clinging to a 7-0 lead, the result of a 20-yard pass-run from Jerry Davis to Ken Hoagland with 58 seconds left in the first half, here was underdog PHS clearly on fire and driving.

Quarterback Scott Thompson has just gotten PHS a first down on the 27. Then disaster. Thompson's fumble was recovered by Ewing's co-captain Scott Stevenson. Moments later, some fine defensive play by the inspired Little Tiger defense forced Ewing to punt to the PHS 43.

Still time. But again, Thompson lost the handle and Ewing's 255-lb. tackle Scott Allen gobbled up the fumble on the 45. Ewing went on to win, 13-6, as PHS scored on the last play of the game on a fake field goal.

The loss was not nearly as tough for PHS coach Jim Beachell to take as was the 28-0 blanking by Lakewood in the opener. Undeniably, he saw things against Ewing which he had to like.

"We're coming around, we're getting there," Beachell said after the game. "When we play some teams more our size in our league, we're going to tear somebody up."

Hun Is Next. The Little Tigers have one more week before they play the first of five consecutive Colonial Valley league games. Saturday morning they will renew a rivalry with the Hun School in a contest that will be played at the PHS field, starting at 11.

Beachell reported later that he hadn't seen Hun play yet this year but is aware his team will have to contain Hun's running backs, Dave Dudeck and Timmy Teel. A post-graduate student from Notre Dame, Dudeck has scored all of Hun's four touchdowns in its first two games, and rushed for 254 yards.

Points on the Board. Even after Ewing had increased its margin to 13-0 with 2:22 left to play, when Mike Walker scored on a counter off tackle and raced over without a PHS player laying a hand on him, the Little Tigers showed that the competitive fire ignited earlier had not been quenched.

A pass from Thompson to Dave Miller in the flat, followed by a lateral to Tony Strong, clicked again for a first down (The flea-flicker produced good yardage both times PHS tried it). Moments later, Thompson went eight yards on a sneak and passed to Tom Seiler for a first down on the 17 with five seconds left. Thompson was running and passing with complete authority.

A deliberate out-of-bounds pass left the Little Tigers with one tick showing on the clock. Beachell sent in sophomore Todd Blackledge to try a field goal from the 23. The ball, however, was pitched back to the 6-3, 210 pound backup quarterback, who rifled a bullet to Ron Reimann in the end zone. Reimann's try for the extra point was blocked.

"We had to get some points on the board any way we could," commented Beachell. "We showed some real discipline taking the ball all the way down. We had the momentum but those fumbles hurt us." PHS lost the ball twice more in the second period on fumbles, and Thompson had one of his passes picked off in the third.

Outstanding individual tackles by Blackledge and Chris Cahill had left Ewing with a 3rd and 25 but Davis escaped from that box by tossing to Tony Johnson for 37 yards on the first play in the final period. Davis finished with 7 completions in 17 attempts for 111 yards.

A little later, Blackledge again broke through for back-to-back tackles, his first resulting in a seven-yard loss. Beachell had praise for the sophomore. "Last week he was nervous and under pressure; this week he played a lot of defense and was more relaxed."

There was more than enough praise to go around for the entire PHS defensive unit, which is led by Tom Hagadorn. Dave Miller, a member of the secondary, is only 155 but played a standout game for the second week running, including an interception of a Davis pass.

Offensively, Tony Strong was called on to do the bulk of the running, gaining 65 yards rushing. Fullback Keith Wadsworth and Tom Seiler are the other running backs.

Beachell reported that he tried to get as many players in the game as possible to achieve his goal of the best balance. It is evident some strides were made against Ewing, and the team is, as Beachell says, "starting to come around."

and Ptl. Walter Harris of the Borough, both of whom lost their lives in the line of duty. Until this year, no team had won the required three years in a row to retire the trophy. This year's victory was the Township's third straight. "We have the best shooters in the county," said a proud Frederick Porter, Township Chief.

Top individual scoring honors were captured by Ptl. Gaylord, followed by Ptl. Vandermark and Ptl. Barry Hibbs, Sgt. Edward Davis and Ptl. Kenneth Hawthorne - the latter three all from West Windsor.

There were no perfect scores, explained Ptl. Vandermark, because overcast weather made it extremely difficult for the contestants to maintain a good "sight picture." In 1974, the Mather Funeral Home donated a plaque to be presented to any contestant shooting a perfect score. None has been obtained so far.

PDS LOSES TOUGH ONE

Morristown-Beard Next. Members of the Princeton Day football team had little more to console themselves with this week than thoughts of "what might have been", following a 12-7 defeat at the hands of Montclair Academy last Saturday on the winners field.

The Panthers, probably the better team on paper, were not the better team on the field when it counted, and saw their season's mark slip to 1-2. This Saturday another away game against Morristown-Beard is scheduled, and again the Blue and White will have an edge in ability.

Morristown-Beard lost at the beginning of the season to Englewood, 13-0. "They are a small squad like we are," PDS coach Rnb Hoffman commented. "But, I think we have more talent."

A more fortunate outcome to Saturday's encounter might have been achieved, if the Panthers had put some points on the board in their opening drive of the contest. Starting on their 25-yard line, PDS drove downfield on the running of Rob Olsson, who carried 11 times.

On a third and one play from the Montclair 21, a PDS lineman lined up offside, and cost the Panthers five yards. Two running plays failed to gain the requisite six yards and PDS turned the ball over. "If we had scored at the point, we might well have blown them away," Hoffman said.

"Getting Burned." Montclair did not have any immediate success either, but in the second period, it scored both touchdowns. The key play was a pass to a running back coming out of the backfield as a receiver. "They burned us on that all day," Hoffman lamented. "We just couldn't get organized to stop it. They do deserve credit. They had two good receivers who could run well with the ball once they caught it."

One of the receivers, Glenn Brown, scored the first six points on a 43-yard play that took about 15 seconds to complete, as Brown covered a good part of the field after his reception.

Later in the period, Ed Healey scored on a 13-yard run. However, the Blue and White was by no means out of it. Montclair missed both extra point attempts, and the Panthers still had a whole half in which to catch up.

In the middle of the third period, PDS began a drive on its 20 and consumed a full 12 minutes, all on short running plays, before Olsson took it into the end zone from five yards out. Dave Barondess' conversion put the Panthers just five points behind.

At this point, with some nine minutes remaining, Montclair sensed it had only to play good defense to win, and PDS never even made another first down. Late in the game an offensive pass interference call nullified a long pass completion that would have put PDS on its own 30. Instead the ball wound up on its two-yard line. That choked off the last potential rally.

Another stroke of bad luck hit the Blue and White when running back Chris Price dislocated a shoulder early in the game. The fastest man on the team, Price is used on sweeps and reverses to open up the opponent's defense. His injury will keep him on the sidelines for the rest of the season.

On the positive side, the Panthers are still 1-0 in Class B competition (Montclair is a Class A school). "If we win our remaining three games against B schools, we'll have at least a tie for the title," Hoffman said. "And that's what we are shooting for."

HUN TOPS PEDDIE

Faces PHS Saturday. The Hun School football team evened its record last week at 1-1 by defeating visiting Peddie, 14-6.

As in last week's opener, which was against Newark Academy, incidentally, and not Admiral Farragut, as reported here, Dave Dudeck scored both Hun TDs.

This Saturday morning at 11, after a four-year gap, Hun will renew its rivalry with Princeton High School. "They're not all that big but they're a bunch of tough hitters," commented Hun coach Dave Leete about the Little Tigers.

"Four years ago, when we played them in back-to-back seasons, we were 1-7 both years," Leete added. (PHS won both games by lopsided scores.) "Talent-wise, we were not that good."

"This year we're not deep but our first group is a decent team. It should be an interesting game."

Against Peddie, Dudeck, who rushed for 107 yards in 22 carries, broke one for 35 yards in the second period to give Hun a 6-0 halftime lead. However, with 4:50 remaining, Peddie tied it on a six-yard pass from quarterback Chuck Nugent to Don Horton.

Hun came right back and scored again in six plays. Dudeck going over from the two. Quarterback Brian Lee passed for the two-point conversion.

Halfback Tim Teel enjoyed his second big game in a row for Hun, rushing for 113 yards in 13 carries. "He ran very well," said Leete, who also cited Lee for his performance in running the club. Lee was three-for-three passing (21 yards) and gained 34 more in five carries.

Defensively, the entire Hun team played a solid game. Leete said, especially sophomore end Scott Zahn, who had six unassisted tackles.

For the Falcons, it was their second loss without a win. Aside from their lone TD, they never threatened to score. Hun, in turn, penetrated inside the 20 on two other occasions but failed to push the ball across.

3 LEAGUES OFFERED

In Paddle Tennis. The Princeton Recreation Department will begin its new platform tennis season soon with a number of programs for virtually every level of ability. To participate, it is necessary to purchase a season ticket from the recreation office. Different fee plans are offered to Princeton residents or school and municipal employees. For additional information, call the recreation office at 921-9480.

Programs offered are: The Women's League which meets on Monday-Friday in the morning or early afternoon. Teams compete among themselves at the 1½ hour time slot each week. This year the league will begin November 1st and run through February, and is more recreational than competitive. For further information call Mary Zimmerman, 924-4966.

The Couples League will meet on Sunday afternoon and evening and Monday evening. Matches will be scheduled at various slots on a weekly or bi-monthly basis. Registration of new mixed doubles teams will be on a first-come, first-serve basis at the Princeton Recreation Department offices in Valley Road Administration Building, Room 211. For additional information, call Ellen Hendrickson, 924-3011.

The Men's League will play Tuesday through Thursday evenings at 8 or 9:30. Players will be rated according to ability and placed on teams competing against others of the same level. New players are urged to try to find a partner of equal talent before calling the Recreation Office for additional information. Clinics for new players interested in the game will be held on October 18 and 19 from 9:30 - 11:00 a.m. and October 20 from 8 - 9:30 p.m. Those interested should call the Recreation Office to reserve space. It is not necessary to take out a season permit for the beginners clinics.

rain forced a postponement of a scheduled showdown between the Princeton High and Princeton Day girls' soccer teams, two of the area's best. The contest was rescheduled for this Monday afternoon at the high school field. The Panthers, 1-0-1 so far this season, will meet Hillside High away this Friday, and were scheduled to play at Montgomery High this Wednesday afternoon.

PDS TIES 1-1
In Field Hockey. The Princeton Day field hockey team is still unbeaten, after three games, but now has one tie, as a result of last Wednesday's contest with Hopewell Valley High. The two schools battled to a draw on the PDS field. Michele Plante put the Blue and White on top with a first half goal, but the visitors came back to tie it in the second half when Valerie Ackerman tallied. The Panthers have two games scheduled for this week, the first against Hoorestown Friends this Wednesday afternoon away, the second Friday against Princeton High at home at 7:30.

PDS SOCCER WINS 2
Remains Unbeaten. After an opening game tie against Princeton High, the Princeton Day soccer team has now picked up four consecutive victories, adding two more last week against a couple of winless opponents, Delbarton and Montclair. Against Delbarton last Wednesday, the Panthers had little trouble, rolling to a 5-1 triumph with scores in every period. Goalie Rob McClellan posted his shutout in the final quarter, when the losers scored their lone goal.

TOWNSHIP SHOOTERS WIN--AGAIN: For the third year in a row--the first such "hat trick" in 14 years--the Township police have won the annual Ellis-Harris Memorial Trophy. Holding all the trophy spoils from left are Det. Anthony Pinelli, Ptl. James Vandermark, Lt. Richard Steiner, Ptl. Renn Kaminski, and Ptl. Anthony Gavlord, the top shooter in this year's match. By winning three in a row, the Township has retired the trophy. (Story page 17B).

Andy Sanford had two for the Blue and White. Mike Walters, Steve Farr and Baird Wimham, one apiece.

Playing at Montclair on Saturday, the Panthers had a somewhat tougher time, coming away with a 3-2 win. PDS scored twice in the second period, and Montclair, once. After the intermission, the winners upped the margin to 3-1, but Montclair scored in the fourth quarter to draw within one.

Walters picked another goal, he now has scored eight this season; Farr and Nusblatt also tallied.

The opposition should be a little stronger this week. PDS was scheduled to play Hun this Wednesday at home and Peddie this Friday at home at 3:30. Hun was beaten 1-0 by Lawrenceville last week for its first loss in five games.

76ERS TOP KNICKS
As Bradley Stays on Bench.

With Jadwin Gymnasium less than 40 percent filled, the New York Knickerbockers and the Philadelphia 76ers played a desultory National Basketball Association exhibition game Saturday night in Jadwin Gymnasium. The Sixers, running in front for all but the early moments of the first quarter, prevailed easily, 108 to 95.

Bill Bradley, who stuffed Dillon Gym to overflowing for the most routine games on the Tigers' schedule while he was an undergraduate here from 1962-65 but never played in Jadwin until he returned as a Knick, ended his Princeton appearances on the bench. A leg injury kept him out of action, and he has said that this season will be his last in pro basketball.

Spencer Haywood and Earl Monroe were also sidelined with assorted strains and pulls, as was Billy Cunningham of Philadelphia.

Minus three of their 1975 regulars, the Knicks were outclassed almost from the opening tap.

The quarter-scores saw the Sixers leading by 29-19, 51-44 and 87-65. The victors' margin was a solid 95-70 before a final but meaningless Knick surge.

George McGinnis, whom the Knicks hoped to get but did not, collected 22 points in the 24 minutes he played, drawing credit also for seven assists. Walt Frazier paced the Knicks with 21 points in his 24 minutes of action. The victors outshot Coach Red Holtzman's team, 54 to 37 percent.

The game was the fourth NBA exhibition contest staged here as a money-raiser for the Princeton United Fund and the Princeton University Scholarship Fund. As was the case with the NFL games in Palmer Stadium, crowd appeal is dwindling, and with Bradley gone next year, a repeat may prove inadvisable.
